Congressman Killed In Plunge From Hotel In Washington

Six Story Fall Causes Death Of Congressman

New Jersey Congressman Is Found Dead Near Washington Hotel

EVIDENTLY FELL OUT OF WINDOW

Believe He Arose During Night, Tripped And Fell From Tall Window

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Plunging from the sixth floor of the Carlton Hotel, Rep. Edward A. Kenney (D., N. J.), was found dead early today. The body of the congressman was found lying in the open air, clad only in underwear. An emergency hospital doctor who was summoned said he had been dead between two and three hours.

Police summoned to the hotel expressed the belief that Kenney might have risen during the night, tripped and fallen from the tall French window.

Death instantaneous. The body of the congressman was first seen by a waiter, who glanced out the hotel dining room window, and immediately summoned aid. Doctors said death had been almost instantaneous.

After the body was found, police and hotel attaches started searching the hotel to find where it came from and they located an open window on the sixth floor, in a group of rooms that had been engaged by the New Jersey chamber of commerce, which last night held its annual dinner here.

In the room police found clothing containing a wallet and other papers that identified the body as that of the congressman.

Body Identified. J. P. Stewart, his secretary, identified the body at the morgue. He said Kenney went to the hotel last night to attend the annual dinner given in honor of the New Jersey congressional delegation.

John Milton, newly appointed senator from New Jersey, and ten of the 14 representatives attended the dinner, at which Walter Kilde of Montclair, president of the state chamber, presided.

Cold Weather Will Remain In District

(International News Service) Continued cold weather seemed in prospect today for Pennsylvania's ten million people. A slight break in the cold wave followed by a new onslaught of frigid temperatures was promised for today in the western tri-state area.

The mercury at the Pittsburgh airport read 12 degrees at midnight, rising from a six degree low of earlier in the day. A few days earlier the temperature at Pittsburgh was 30 above.

The promised relief from the current cold wave would be only temporary. U. S. weather observers said with a new cold wave expected soon out of the west and northwest.

The cold wave served to check rising rivers in Western Pennsylvania, after the Allegheny river rose six feet in 18 hours. The ice gorge north of Oil City cracked.

Drop Below Zero. The temperature yesterday in Venango county fell to four below zero, it was reported, with zero at the McKinley station in McKean county, and four above at Kane.

Heavy winds swept the entire tri-state area and Western Pennsylvania. (Continued On Page Two)

Soviet Breaks Postal Relations With Japan

(International News Service) MOSCOW, Jan. 27.—Further straining already tense Russo-Japanese relations, the Soviet Union decided today to break off all postal relations with Nippon for the time being.

The decision, which takes effect immediately, also will affect mail in transit through Russia between Japan and other countries.

An official announcement said the reasons for the break were: first, protracted, unlawful detention by Japanese and Manchurian authorities of a large quantity of mail of Soviet citizens, and second, detention of the crew of a Soviet mail plane which made a forced landing in Manchukuoan territory December 19.

Unsatisfactory Answers. It was stated the Japanese government had made "unsatisfactory" (Continued On Page Two)

Supervisors Are In Convention

State Secretary Assails Action Taken By Last State Legislature

REYNOLDS PRESIDES AT DAY'S SESSIONS

Bitterly assailing what he termed the order taking of the General Assembly of 1937, H. A. Thomson, state secretary of the Township Supervisors association spoke to the Lawrence County supervisors and auditors in their 23rd annual convention in the Lawrence County court house.

"I hope never to see another session like that of 1937," said Thomson. "There was more threatening legislation put in and backed than I have ever seen over a long period of years as an observer in Harrisburg. Legislation that threatened home rule in Pennsylvania, some of it passed and some of it we were able to kill by organizing the public officials of the state."

Discusses Legislation. Mr. Thomson discussed a number of bills that were passed in the past session, terming most of them as bad. He was especially critical of the county school board act which sets up another board in each county, the poor relief bill which he said would not relieve the taxpayers of any expense, the forty-four hour act and an act requiring supervisors to set up a budget for their yearly expenditures.

"Any time they plead tax relief in order to get centralization of power, look out," said Thomson. "In the poor relief set-up they already have (Continued On Page Two)

Will Open Bids On March 1 For New Sanatorium

(International News Service) BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 27.—Construction work on the $2,645,000 Western Pennsylvania tuberculosis sanatorium is expected to begin within two weeks, it was understood today. PWA deadline for opening construction, set by the general state authority, is February 14.

Bids will be opened March 1, it was announced, for the main part of the sanatorium project, estimated to cost more than $2,000,000. The sanatorium will be located on the 107 Robinson tract, two miles west of Butler on Route 422. It was purchased by the county for $32,100 and then deeded over to the state.

REPORT MUSSOLINI TO SEND REGULARS TO SPANISH WAR

(International News Service) LONDON, Jan. 27.—The London News Chronicle reported today that well informed quarters believe Premier Mussolini has decided to send 50,000 regular Italian troops to Spain in February and March to aid the insurgents.

The paper reported Il Duce is planning his move to effect a quick victory for rebel General Francisco Franco.

No such concentration of forces has taken place since Europe's last great war.

Only half of the Japanese forces in the field are now fighting China, about 250,000 in north China and another 250,000 in the Shanghai-Nanking area. The other 500,000 are concentrated along the Manchurian-Siberian and outer Mongolian borders, facing the million strong far eastern army.

In Progress Three Years. In miniature the Russo-Japanese war has been going on for three years. During that period, according to the official Japanese record, the two armies have fought 400 engagements. Thousands have been killed in these fights of which the world for the most part hears nothing, and in one case the red army claims to have wiped out an entire regiment of Japanese.

Yet they are not "at war," and will not go to war until the Japanese army is ready to strike. The red army will not move until it is attacked. This is the indubitable policy of the Kremlin today. Neither will it help China except in supplies, airplanes and munitions in quantities too small, and coming too late to make any real difference to Chiang Kai-Shek, whom Stalin and Marshal Vassily Bleucher-Galen, commander in chief of the far eastern army, have every reason to hate personally for his betrayal of the Soviets in 1926.

Much Border Trouble. According to the latest official report of the Japanese, they had 220 cases of what they politely call "border troubles" with the red army in 1935, 30 in 1936 and in the first six months of 1937 they had 80. Although the record is not up to date, it is safe to say that it adds up to well over 400 by now.

Only a tiny fraction of these fights have been announced by Moscow or Tokyo. Were there a free press in either country they must have incited the population to war long ago. As it is, the two armies are constantly engaged in testing each other out, making forays across the border, shooting up frontier posts, and occasionally coming over with bombing planes to inflict extra painful injury.

Red army men proudly told me that "not long ago" a squadron of red bombers flew from outer Mongolia to punish a Japanese force which had impudently pushed across frontier from Chahar, and had destroyed a regiment. Exaggerated (Continued On Page Ten)

AS ICE JAM THREATENED NIAGARA FALLS BRIDGE

VIEW OF "HONEYMOON" BRIDGE BUCKLING UNDER ICE GORGE

Under terrific pressure from an ice gorge in the Niagara river, the Falls View bridge from the United States to Canada at Niagara Falls began buckling in the middle. Ice seen in this picture rushed from Niagara Falls, piled to a depth of approximately 40 feet around the bridge piers and lower girders of the 1,500-foot structure—but engineers believed the bridge would be saved. Earlier reports had the bridge completely destroyed—but, as the picture above shows, it was withstanding the pressure. This picturesque span is 47 years old.

City Firemen Are Kept Busy

Fire sirens have sounded frequently since Wednesday afternoon as firemen answered five calls, none of which proved serious. Two men were admitted to local hospital as a result, however.

Shortly before 3 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, firemen were called to Evans-Kennedy Service Station, 412 Croton avenue, where gasoline flashed into the face of Alfred Ramsey, aged 30, of 222 Mulberry street, who was badly burned about the face. Mr. Ramsey was admitted to the New Castle hospital suffering (Continued On Page Two)

Suggest Weingartner For Lieutenant-Governor

With former State Senator Frank J. Harris of Pittsburgh definitely refusing to consider being a candidate for the lieutenant-governorship nomination on the Republican ticket, the name of former State Senator George T. Weingartner of this county has been advanced as a possible candidate. The suggestion originated in an adjoining county and in the past two days has been taken up by friends of Senator Weingartner.

The argument has been advanced that he is qualified for the position by ability and by geography. With the Republican nominee for governor coming from the eastern part of the state, leaders in the Republican party believe the western end of the state should get the lieutenant-governorship.

Insofar as experience in Harrisburg is concerned Senator Weingartner is well qualified. He served two terms in the House of Representatives, 1905-09, a four-year term in the state senate, 1909-13, and two more terms in the senate from 1925 to 1933. In 1919 he was elected as a county commissioner in this county and re-elected in 1923, resigning after serving 11 months of his second term to re-enter the senate. In his 40 years experience in politics he has never been defeated as a candidate for elective office.

The boom, if it can be termed such, comes as a surprise to Senator Weingartner. "The entire thing is a surprise to me," said he. "Until I know more about it I can hardly be expected to comment upon it."

Deny Japanese Building Ships

(International News Service) TOKYO, Jan. 27.—Japan's present naval program "may be augmented or accelerated if it becomes necessary," Admiral Matsumura Yonai, navy minister, informed the Diet today.

The Japanese navy, he said, "intends to deal successfully with any problems arising from the naval expansion of other powers."

Official quarters persist in denying, however, that Japan has already started construction of 43,000-ton battleships.

Duke Of Windsor Postpones Trip To United States

(International News Service) PARIS, Jan. 27.—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor have rented a chateau in suburban Versailles for a four-month period and will postpone their trip to the United States at least until early summer.

This was revealed to International News Service today on highest authority.

The chateau is already furnished and the former British monarch and his American-born bride plan to move in within the next few weeks.

Their action in renting the Versailles chateau has definitely put all prospect of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor going to America out of the question until the four-month period expires.

Japanese Make Another Apology

(International News Service) SHANGHAI, Jan. 27.—A new affront to American dignity by the Japanese military was revealed here today with disclosure John B. Allison, United States charge d'affaires in Nanking, was slapped in the face by a Japanese sentry when he attempted to enter a Chinese house.

Full details were not revealed immediately, but Japanese authorities here admitted the incident had occurred and that they had apologized for it.

My friend enjoys the winter sports, he loves to skate and sled and ski, and if he only had the cash, here's what he'd do, said he to me. "I'd hire me to the frozen north to Placid or to Montreal and there'd I'd skate and sled at will and listen to the snow birds' call."

"I may be able to make such trips, but as for me had I the time, I'd hit the trail for Florida or some such sunny, balmy clime. I'd sit me down beneath a tree and listen to the wild waves roar, the mornings I would rest a bit and after lunch I'd rest some more. PA NEW OBSERVES

A news reel of the radio brought H. J. Strickland of Columbus, Ohio, more than he expected on Wednesday. As he stood in the Elliott and Waddington store the announcer told of a fire destroying an airplane hangar in Columbus, O. The hangar contained Mr. Strickland's plane.

"Twins a mighty cold morning yesterday. There wasn't even a dog to be seen, probably they were playing 'hot dog' on the registers at home. But the frigid weather did not scare a boy and girl on Crawford avenue. Dressed comfortably, with woolen caps and mittens, they were having a great time, coasting down the lawn bank. They were probably five or six years of age, perhaps twins, and their faces showed the picture of health."

Sidewalk snow sweepers were out again this morning, clearing the night's accumulation of "the beautiful" from the walks. It was noted that about the same walks that are cleared after each snowfall were again free of snow this morning, and a lot of others that haven't been touched all winter showed no activity of the snow sweepers.

U. S. weather reports for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning follow:

Maximum temperature, 18.
Minimum temperature, 9.
Precipitation, .05 inches half inch of snow.

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:

Maximum temperature, 31.
Minimum temperature, 16.
No precipitation.

Carnegie Hero Awards Are Made

Bravery Is Cited By Commission

Four Of Awards Are Made Posthumously — About $10,000 Is Allotted

FIVE YEAR PERIOD COVERED IN REPORT

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—To the heroes of civilian life—15 persons, men, women and children—who risked their lives to save those of others, the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission today awarded its tokens of honor, bronze medals, four of them posthumously.

Almost $10,000 in benefits also were awarded to dependents, for the purchase of homes, for educational purposes, and for other considerations.

The awards covered a five-year period, the recipients ranging in age from 10 to 40. Those to whom awards were granted included:

Dorothy L. Larson, 19, Iowa City, Pa.; Robert Wolf, 29, Upper Darby, Pa.; William N. Banks, Jr., 10, Newnan, Ga.; Benjamin D. Banks, Jr., 10, Grantville, Ga.; John W. Cloney, Jr., 18, Upper Darby, Pa.; Clarence Martella, 16, Louisville, Colo.; Walter H. Dennis, 31, Marblehead, Mass.; Eugene E. Buckley, 37, Hood River, Ore.; Alex N. Wiggs, 29, Solana, N. C.; J. Earl James, 27, Pocatello, Idaho; Kent S. Frost, 19, Monticello, Utah; Clifford H. Lay, 39, Iowa, N. C.; Thomas K. McKenna, 25, Orono, Utah; Roy N. Bower, 40, Los Angeles; John A. Chambers, 21, Gladstone, Ore. The last four awards were posthumously awarded.

Although the commission did not distinguish as to the individual acts of heroism, some stood out among the others.

Typifying the heroism recognized in the awards was that of Clifford H. Lay, 39, of Iowa, N. C., who came to a hero's death because above his own safety, he placed the welfare of a fellow worker. Disregarding the warning of fellow workers, Lay, a painter, descended into a well to rescue William G. Steinfeldt, 53, a carpenter, overcome by a while at work. The same gas that killed Steinfeldt killed Lay also.

INTENSE AERIAL ACTIVITY MARKS WAR IN SPAIN

ened the skies over Teruel and nearby communities in a 10-hour raid, unleashing a hail of bombs and machine gun bullets reported to have killed or wounded hundreds of persons.

In the raid on Valencia, it was reported, Captain Arnold Cronc of the British vessel Dover Abbey was killed and his ship damaged.

Troops Remain

The Valencia raiders flew to the mainland from the Italian air base at Majorca Island, attacking first the harbor, then the city, and causing extensive damage. This attack was carried out as the rebels and loyalists hurled the full might of their aerial and ground forces into the fratricidal battle for possession of Teruel.

Despite the extent of the rebel air attacks on the Teruel sector, there was no indication it had succeeded in driving the government troops from their positions.

Reliable information here and at St. Jean de Luz, meanwhile, stated decrees for Spain's "first national insurance" government under Generalissimo Francisco Franco are now ready for publication.

The insurgent cabinet, it was stated, probably will consist of 10 ministers and four under secretaries.

SUPERVISORS ARE IN CONVENTION

a department of public assistance which has 4000 employees in Harrisburg and they haven't started with the counties yet. That general assembly certainly did take orders.

Convention Opens

The convention opened this morning at ten-thirty with President D. B. Reynolds in the chair. Following roll call by Secretary John W. Cox, Mr. Reynolds introduced Judge Thomas W. Dickey, who welcomed the supervisors in behalf of the county. Judge Braham was scheduled to speak but was unable to be present. In his address Judge Dickey paid tribute to the work of the supervisors in this county and said that in his opinion it would be wise if the state allocated more money to the supervisors for the care of highways. The response to Judge Dickey's address was made by Secretary John W. Cox.

It was not expected that State Secretary Thomson would be present and as a result his address postponed several things on the program for this morning. The nomination of officers, the report of the state convention delegates and the address of Highway Superintendent John B. Shaw were held over until the afternoon session.

answers" to repeated protests by the Soviets regarding detention of the airmen and mail.

Observers here believed the break in postal relations between the two nations brought a step nearer the seemingly inevitable day when diplomatic relations between Moscow and Tokyo will be severed.

Behind the Soviet action was believed to be alleged Japanese espionage through the mails and general tension arising from the Sino-Japanese war.

Tokyo, Jan. 27.—Japanese foreign office and communications ministry officials conferred today over what course to pursue in view of Soviet Russia's action in breaking off postal relations with Japan.

FACTS ABOUT INCOME TAX

WHEN TO REPORT INCOME FROM SALARIES, WAGES, ETC.

Of the millions of income-tax returns that are filed annually, the vast majority are from salaried persons and wage earners whose income is derived from personal services.

In general, compensation for personal services should be reported for taxation purposes in the year it is received or unqualifiedly made subject to demand. Compensation credited to the account of or set apart for a taxpayer, without any substantial limitation or restriction, and which may be drawn upon by him at any time, is subject to tax for the year during which so credited or set apart, although not then actually reduced to possession. If the services were rendered during the year 1937, or even prior thereto, but the compensation was not received, or made unqualifiedly subject to demand, by the taxpayer until the year 1937, the entire amount is taxable in the year received or made unqualifiedly subject to demand, when the taxpayer is reporting on the cash receipts and disbursements basis, which is the basis used by most persons in reporting net income.

The names of all employees to whom payments of $1,000 or over a year are made must be reported. The information return should be made on Form 1099, accompanied by transmittal Form 1096 showing the number of returns filed. These returns should be filed on or before February 15, 1938.

All of the various types of compensation, unless specifically exempt by statute, or exempt by fundamental law should be included in the taxpayer's return of gross income, such as salaries, wages, fees, commissions, bonuses, tips, honorariums, prizes, awards, retiring allowances for past services, etc. Where services are paid for in whole or in part with something other than money, the fair market value of the thing taken in payment must be included as income. Other items subject to tax are fees received by ministers of the gospel for funerals, baptisms, masses, and like services; executors' fees; directors' fees; Federal jury fees; and prizes received in contests of various kinds.

The salaries of Federal officers and employees are subject to tax, including the salary of the President of the United States and judges of courts of the United States taking office after the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932, which was June 6, 1932. The salaries of the Vice President of the United States and the salaries of Members of the House of Representatives and the Members of the United States Senate are also subject to income tax.

Jackson Nominated Solicitor General

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—President Roosevelt today nominated Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson to be solicitor general of the United States. He succeeds Stanley F. Reed, who was appointed to the supreme court.

Jackson has been head of the anti-trust division of the department of justice, and is known as an aggressive, hard-hitting attorney.

SIX STORY FALL CAUSES DEATH OF CONGRESSMAN

guests assembled in the rooms on the sixth floor which had been reserved, and discussed various political matters.

Charles A. Eaton, Jr., secretary of the chamber, said he last saw Kenney about midnight, when the congressman retired to his room. At that time Kenney seemed in excellent spirits, Eaton said.

An element of mystery entered the case, however, when friends of Kenney said he put on his hat and coat about 11:30 last night, said good-night and told them he was going to his home.

BELIEVE BRIDGE HAS BEEN SAVED FROM COLLAPSE

of hastily recruited workers, relieved pressure of the 100-foot ice pack at the foundations of the bridge this morning.

Danger Temporarily Over

Triumphant but weary, owners of the structure declared that danger of a collapse had passed, at least temporarily.

Toiling under floodlights throughout the night, laborers with picks and shovels dug a 60-foot ditch around abutments on the American side. When clear water was reached wooden bulkheads were placed against the sorely torn girders.

Receding temperatures checked the flow of ice over the falls and indications were that the lower river current was gradually carrying away much ice from under the jam.

The tremendous force of the flows pushed piles of ice 100 feet high under the bridge. Iron girders were bent and twisted like wire. The deck of the bridge reared ten feet in the air yesterday afternoon. The main lower arch girder of the bridge seem bent and twisted.

Bridge Deck Sags

The deck of the bridge sagged several feet from the American side. The base of support on this side seems moved about 7 feet from its original resting place.

The falls view bridge is one of three structures spanning the gorge near the falls. It is owned by the International Railway Company which has sent crews of emergency workers down on the ice to brace the abutments with wood piles. Gangs were working with pick and shovel to distribute the stress of the piled ice.

Dynamite kept handy had not been used to clear the jam.

The men who worked under floodlights during the night went home before dawn for a brief rest, to return later.

News of the impending disaster to the venerable landmark brought thousands of curious spectators from near and far. American and Canadian authorities tending the bridge were forced to guard the entrances to prevent thrill-seekers from venturing on to the sagging structure.

Favorite Spot For View

The 1,200 foot span has been for many years the favorite spot to view the magnificent splendor of the powerful cataract. Despite the extreme cold and stinging wind which has almost completely frozen over the falls, a surging crowd remained late into the night for a chance to see the bridge finally collapse. Actually however they saw very little for the ice did its work with a slow relentless churning. Only at rare intervals did a sudden violent surge appear.

Properly at the base of the cataract was in danger of being crushed like eggshells. The Maid of the Mist, a pleasure steamer which carries passengers to the very base of the waterfalls, had been reported crushed by chunks of ice where it stood in a drydock at the bottom of the gorge.

with severe burns about the face. Mr. Ramsey was engaged in cleaning a car when the gasoline caught fire. Damage was estimated at about $10.

A call from Box 115, brought five companies to the Fox estate, 109 W. Mr. Flanagan was removed from the building overcome with smoke. After using the inhalator, firemen sent Mr. Flanagan to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he received treatment, and was able to leave.

Firemen were called to Alpen and Katz Bakery, 32 East Long avenue, this morning about 2 o'clock, when a fire from a stove in the rear of the bakery, set fire to the side of the structure. Damage was estimated at $100. The blaze started in the storage room.

Four companies answered another call from the south side at 4:36 o'clock this morning. An overheated fluo pipe started a fire in the cellar of the home of Gus Talagamis, 1116 Seabrook street. About $75 damage resulted.

Rushing into the Central engine house, this morning about 7:25 o'clock, a man reported a fire in the back of a lumber yard, Company 1 B, answered the call and found no fire. The man departed quickly after making the report.

Fire Chief A. P. McIlwain reported that the past day has been the busiest since the start of the year, firemen being literally on the go for nearly 24 hours.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. W. D. Myers

Mrs. W. D. Myers, formerly of New Castle, died this morning at her home in Ashland, O., according to a message received here.

Mrs. Myers lived for a number of years in Mahoningtown, then in New Castle. Her husband, who survives, is an electrician.

Funeral services will be conducted at the residence Friday at 2 p. m. and interment will be made in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Mrs. Emma Cook

Mrs. Emma Cook, aged 82 years, who taught school in Beaver county for more than 35 years, died Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles White, 211 North Cedar street.

Mrs. Cook has resided at her daughter's home for the past 10 years.

Mrs. Cook, the widow of Thomas Cook, was born in Beaver county, the daughter of Stephen and Jane Graham Calvin. She was a member of the Mahoning Presbyterian church in the Seventh ward.

Surviving are a son, Forest Cook, Beaver Falls, R. F. D. 2, and two daughters, Mrs. Edith Taylor, Beaver Falls, and Mrs. White, at whose home she died. Seven grandchildren and six great grandchildren are also left.

Short funeral services will be held from the White residence, 211 North Cedar, on Friday at 12:30 p. m. with Rev. D. C. Schreiner of the Mahoning Presbyterian church officiating. The body will then be removed to a cemetery in New Salem, Pa., for burial.

The body will be taken from Burke's funeral home to the White residence late today.

Funeral Of Mrs. Dodds

Relatives and friends filled the G. H. Wyman home on Chestnut street Tuesday evening when funeral services for Mrs. Wyman's mother, Mrs. Margaret Ann Dodds, was conducted. The casket was surrounded by numerous beautiful floral pieces.

Rev. J. Calvin Rose, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, was in charge.

On Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 further services took place in the Prospect United Presbyterian church. The officiating clergymen were Rev. S. C. Gamble of Butler, Rev. C. W. Johnson of Prospect, and Rev. Rose of New Castle.

Pallbearers were William and Donald McGrew, Harry and Henry Wyman, Merle and Carl McBride, Harold Dodds and Herbert Hutton. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

vania, covering highways with a fine snow. State highway crews labored with chains to relieve the traffic hazard. Charitable institutions and other havens for the homeless were reported filled to capacity.

Brief snow flurries and a biting northwest wind during the night sent the mercury to about eight degrees in the Harrisburg area. Lower temperatures and flurries during the night were reported from several other sections.

U. S. Weather Forecaster C. S. Ling, at Harrisburg, saw little immediate relief from the biting cold. Fair and colder was the forecast for today.

Freezing cold engulfed Eastern Pennsylvania today as the mercury tumbled below 20, but no distress was reported. The Poconos experienced intermittent snow flurries and even lower temperatures.

The government meteorologist indicated that the weather would continue fair and cold today and tomorrow.

DORCAS CLASS MEETS AT J. B. LEYDE HOME

Mrs. Joseph B. Leyde opened her home on Highland avenue to the members of the Dorcas class of the First Congregational church on Tuesday evening.

Miss Hannah Richards, the president, conducted the devotionals after which a reading, entitled "Mountains," was presented by Mrs. Francis Cope. Further plans were made for the next supper which is to be held in the church on February 10.

Mrs. Margaret Clagson-Smith, one of the members of the class who had been ill for some time, was welcomed back at this time. Games were played with Miss Lela Lewis, Ethel Miller and Claudia Nelson winning the prizes. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. W. H. Jones, later in the evening. Yellow daffodils and roses were used as decorations.

Mrs. Roy Nelson will be the next hostess at the home of Miss Melvina Davies, Electric street.

Una-Glip Club
Mrs. Clifford Bradford and Mrs. George Wendt won the bridge awards Wednesday evening at the meeting of the Una-Glip club in the home of Mrs. Paul Shoaf, 725 Croton avenue.

After the games Mrs. Shoaf served a tasty lunch at the card tables. In addition to the members, Miss Kathryn McCreary was present. The next meeting will be in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Fred Thompson, Beckford street.

A corpse in every chapter! And as the midnight oil burns on, there are an increasing number of deaths. Destruction is on all sides!

MURDER BY NIGHT!

But the only real murder committed after a night-session with a good book is the slow but certain death of your eye efficiency! Poor light and poor posture account for most of this destruction.

But as in all good mystery thrillers, murder will out! The sleuth in this case is Gerson's. We offer the preventative and corrective measures which will protect your eyes against "Murder by Night!"

EMERY BACK NEW P. H. C. PRESIDENT

With State Deputy M. M. Henlein of Erie as the installing officer, the following men and women were placed at the head of the local Protected Home Circle at the semi-annual installation meeting in the I. O. O. F. hall Wednesday night:

Past president, Miss Ethel Cowles; president, Emery Back; vice president, Sidney Fleming; guardian, Mrs. Helen Ray; secretary, Miss Sarah Dandy; treasurer, George Wyman; accountant, George Muser; chaplain, Miss Eloise Hoover; guide, George Bright; companion, Arthur Cowles; sentinel, Mrs. Grace Warwick; watchman, Mrs. Flora Cunningham; pianist, Mrs. Hazel Lowers; and trustee, A. L. Conn.

The next meeting will be on February 9.

VIRGINIA BOYD IS HOSTESS TO CLUB

Members of Les Gales Huit club were entertained at the home of Virginia Boyd, 911 Marshall avenue, Wednesday evening.

Bridge playing was the main diversion of the hours. High score prizes were awarded to Ruth Sprout and Betty Jane McCurdy. Miss Sprout was also a special guest of the club.

Later a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, aided by her mother, Mrs. A. M. Boyd.

Next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Betty Jane McCurdy, 7 East Laurel avenue, on February 19. This will be in the form of a birthday party.

Pandoras Club

Members of the Pandoras club were entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Anthony Fuleno, rear East Lutton street. The hours were spent socially, bridge being the main diversion. High score prizes were won by Mrs. Pat Polus and Mrs. William Cubellis. The latter also won the club totem.

At a late hour refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Cubellis. "Big Sister" names were exchanged. Each member is to remember her "Big Sister" on anniversaries and holidays.

The next meeting will be in the form of a Valentine party on Wednesday, February 9, at the home of Mrs. Floyd Champ on East Lutton street.

Dinner Event

John Austin Holland was entertained at dinner at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Reed and at a small informal gathering at the home of Prof. and Mrs. C. G. Lindner, during his recent brief visit here.

Class Event
Pupils of grade 9 A-2, George Washington Junior High school, held a farewell get-together, at the home of Betty Ann Reed, North Mercer street, last evening. This group has been together since starting in first grade at Arthur McGill school, but will now be separated, many going to Senior High school, next semester. Games occupied the evening, with lunch served at the close. An added feature was the presentation of a gift to Richard Miles, who is moving away from the city. Special guests were Lorraine Macke, Frank McKee, and Joe Johnston.

Section Two Luncheon.
Mrs. Bertha Patterson was hostess to the members of Section Two on Wednesday afternoon at the First Christian church. Luncheon at about 2 o'clock was followed by a business session.

The meeting had been scheduled to take place at the home of Mrs. R. W. McCurdy on Adams street but because of the death of Mrs. McCurdy's brother in Youngstown the plans were changed.

On Wednesday, February 23, the section will have a tureen dinner at 12:30 p. m. in the church.

CATHARTICS A BAD HABIT

If you have common constipation, due to lack of bulk in the diet, the great objection to pills and purgatives is that they only perpetuate the trouble.

Why not encourage elimination with a natural laxative food—with Kellogg's All-Bran. It absorbs moisture and softens like a sponge. This water-softened mass aids elimination. At the same time it improves intestinal tone because Kellogg's All-Bran contains the intestinal tonic vitamin B.

Eat All-Bran as a cereal or baked in muffins. And drink plenty of water. Made by Kellogg at Battle Creek.

Senior Dinner-Dance Held Wednesday Night

Attractive red and silver balls, surrounded by miniature skating figures, marked the places and decorated the dinner table at the dinner-dance party staged Wednesday evening in the Castleton hotel dining room by members of the senior high school graduating class.

The theme of the class, "Winter Sports," was cleverly worked out in the decorations. Programs cut in the shape of snowmen were also very clever.

At 6:30 o'clock a delicious dinner menu was served to 180 students and their guests at The Castleton. Dick Johns, president of the class, serving as toastmaster, introduced Frank L. Orth, principal of the school, who gave a short talk.

Superintendent of Schools C. C. Green also was introduced and spoke briefly. Toastmaster Johns introduced James Howley who was chairman of the class gift committee. Howley presented Miss Marjorie Rhodes, Miss Bess Galley, Miss Mary Long, class supervisor; Mr. Orth and the various class officers with gifts.

Miss Mary Long, supervisor of the

MARSING CLUB HAS SPECIAL GUESTS

Mrs. Elmo Moncrief and Mrs. Jane Mumy were special guests at the gathering of the Marsing club Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Howard Moncrief, DuShane street.

Card prizes were won by Mrs. Ernest Anderson, Mrs. Helen Miles and Mrs. Stuart Cope during the evening. Later the group was invited to the dining room, which was attractively decorated in the Valentine motif, where a delicious lunch was served.

February 9 is the date set for the next meeting which will take place at the home of Mrs. Chester Reed, Lathrop street.

Make Home In McKeesport

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Russo, nee Rose Sandullo, are "at home" to their many friends at 713 Ridge street, McKeesport.

The couple was married Saturday January 15, at 9:30 o'clock in St. Joseph's church by the Rev. Joseph A. Doerr. The single ring ceremony was used.

Miss Amelia Iacobucci, a close associate of the bride, was the maid of honor.

Louis Russo, a cousin of the groom served as best man.

At noon a sumptuous wedding dinner was served at the home of the groom's parents. Covers were laid for 50.

Late in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Russo left for a week's wedding trip through New York state. Mrs. Russo is the daughter of Mike Sandullo, 508 Lutton street. She attended the local high school and for the past two years had been employed at the Johnson Bronze Company.

Mr. Russo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Russo, Neal street. He also attended the local high school and is now employed at the National Tube company in McKeesport.

Many beautiful gifts for their new home were received by the couple, testifying to the high esteem in which they are held.

Birthday Party

Upon her return home from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Earl Wheale, of Wilson avenue, Mrs. Frank Smith of East Long avenue was surprised to find 16 guests here to honor her on her birthday anniversary.

The evening was spent in playing bingo, with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Talaganus, Mrs. Frank Plush, Mrs. May Williams, Mrs. Clara Thomas and Mrs. F. Smith.

At a late hour the guests were served dainty refreshments at a long table, decorated in pink. Novelty candy sticks were used as favors. A large birthday cake and pink tapers formed the centerpiece. The group sang "Happy Birthday" while Mrs. Smith's daughter, Katherine, presented her with many packages containing many lovely gifts from those present. Those who served were Miss Caroline Plush, Elizabeth Smith, Katherine Smith, Marrietta Price and Thelma Keiber.

O. E. A. Club Meeting
Mrs. H. S. Gordon was a special guest at the meeting of the O. E. A. club Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. H. H. Davies, Marshall avenue. The gathering was in the form of a Valentine party.

Five hundred was the evening's pastime with high scores awarded going to Mrs. William Tanney and Mrs. S. R. Pehl. The Valentine motif was carried out in the menu, the hostess being assisted by her daughter, Peggy, in serving. Mrs. Gordon received a guest prize.

On Tuesday, February 8, the group will meet at the home of Mrs. T. Earl, 538 North Cedar street.

Friendship Club
Mrs. Joseph Scribner, High street, entertained the members of Friendship club at her home Wednesday evening. Bingo was played and Mrs. Thomas Quigley received the club token. The hostess was assisted by her daughter Irene, in serving a lunch.

Details for the next meeting will be announced.

MRS. ROY WISH IS HOSTESS TO CLUB

Mrs. Roy Wish, of Edison avenue, was a charming hostess to members of the 1937 S. L. club, when they gathered in her home on Wednesday evening.

After a short routine business period was conducted the members joined in a 500 tournament. High score prizes were awarded to Mrs. Joseph Malloy and to Mrs. Frank Zimmerman. One special guest, Mrs. J. W. Stinson was present, and was awarded the guest token.

A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Wish, aided by Mrs. Stinson and Mrs. Malloy. Mrs. Malloy will entertain the club at her home on Leasure avenue, in two weeks.

MRS. R. WEINGARTNER ENTERTAINS TRI-QUAD'S

Mrs. Robert Weingartner entertained the members of the Tri-Quad Bridge club at her home on the Butler road Wednesday evening. Mrs. S. E. Elcholtz was a special guest at the gathering.

Bridge held the interest of the members during the evening with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Louis Hazen and Miss Virginia Conover. A delicious lunch was served at the conclusion of play. The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, a bouquet centering each of the bridge tables.

Mrs. C. M. Booher, Wilmington avenue, will receive the club in her home on February 9.

Good Neighbors Club

A meeting of the Good Neighbors club was held on Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John Earl West Washington street extension. Following a short business period, the guests enjoyed a 500 tournament.

Prizes for high scores were awarded to Mrs. Harry Brown and to Mrs. Charles McGary. Special guests were Miss Helen Fray and Miss Sara Eave.

Next meeting will be in two weeks in the home of Mrs. Charles McGary, West Washington street extension.

Bulls Cause Writers Pain

Sometimes Escape Attention Of All Forces Bent On Correcting Errors

ALL HAVE SOME SIN IN GPAMMAR

IN O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK (Jan. 27)—Bulls as mistakes are called in the news room, are the bane of all who write for the press. Even the most experienced of writers sometimes find themselves making a bulls' eye mistake.

A "bull" will sometimes go through six or seven expert hands after it leaves a writer and not be noticed until, like a bomb, it explodes in a headline or in a paragraph on the printed page.

A recent column in a recent issue of the "New York Times" was about Bill Corbin. There were three errors in the column.

Errors of construction so flagrant a school boy would catch them at a glance. Yet they not only escaped me as well as more expert editorial eyes and most of the copy reading staff at the "Times".

Color This—Win A Prize

Name _____
Address _____
School _____
Grade _____ Age _____

For the second time in several months elementary grade students throughout city and county schools will have an opportunity to test their ability in crayon coloring and perhaps win a prize.

Above is a cartoon reproduced from the famous children's play, "Pussycat," to be staged here on Friday, February 11, at the George Washington and Benjamin Franklin Junior High School auditoriums, under the auspices of the Lawrence County P. T. A. officials of the organization want all children enrolled in elementary grade schools in the city or county to compete in this coloring contest. Four prizes will be awarded the winners. It was announced.

The rules are simple. Just color the cartoon in any way you feel like. Color it the way you think it will appear best. Then, fill the blank underneath the drawing and bring your cartoon into the lobby of The News and drop it into a special container. The contest closes on Wednesday, February 2.

With an agreement reached between the county commissioners and the state highway department on the building of the stretch of route 224 between Edinburg and the Ohio state line, the hope of an early contract is held.

At the regular meeting of the county commissioners held on Wednesday morning, Commissioner Floyd L. Cotton reported on his trip to Pittsburgh with County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr., on Tuesday.

The conference with Joseph E. Burke, state highway district engineer, after considerable discussion it was agreed that the county would pay $50,000 to the state and in return the state would assume all damages and build the underpasses necessary. The state estimates the damages and building of underpasses will approximate $85,000.

Mr. Cotton also reported on the possibility of getting the Edinburg-Ohio line road built. Mr. Burke told him the township must first acquire the right of way and designate it as a township highway. The state would then be in shape to do something about it.

A striking example of the "Haves" and the "Have-Nots" was seen on the court house lawn Wednesday morning. A busy tailed squirrel was sitting on a corn cob which is stuck in the tree, eating away at the kernels of corn. Below were six pigeons, looking up longingly and scrambling for an occasional grain that was dropped from the tree. The squirrel seemed to enjoy his advantage while the pigeons seemed to be asking him to be a good guy and share his meal.

Getting delinquent tax collectors for the various districts in the county is getting to be a task. Frances McChesney, appointed as delinquent tax collector for Big Beaver township has refused to serve stating that he loses money when he collects delinquent taxes. The constable had previously said he didn't want it, but if it becomes necessary the constable can be forced to serve. The bond of Howard Gibson for $1200 as delinquent tax collector in North Beaver township was accepted.

The commissioners let the contract on Wednesday for the painting of the county treasurer's office to William Evans at his price of $50. The walls will be given a coat of stain, two coats of paint and the wood work varnished.

Chief registration commission clerk Thomas C. Edmunds has been authorized to have 2000 cards made which will be sent out to the registrars of vital statistics in the county. Whenever a death occurs the registrar is expected to notify the registration office in order that the records of voters may be kept straight.

Getting an insane patient into a state hospital is next door to impossible unless a patient of the county who has been there for some time is returned. Sheriff M. M. Ingham has made two trips with patients to Torrancia and each time has brought as many back as he took. Welfare Officer Edwin O. Reed has a case at the present time which should be institutionalized and constant watch kept. He has been refused the admission of the patient by the Torrancia state hospital authorities and has wired the Department of Welfare in Harrisburg for action.

In an opinion handed down by the attorney-general's office, the county is held to be responsible for medical attention to all indigent people who are on relief and who are classed as county cases. For a time it appeared that the state might assume this work under the new relief set-up but the opinion of the attorney-general settles any doubt in the matter.

Tax notices are now under way. City Treasurer C. C. McKibben states. As soon as the tax cards for a ward are completed they are placed in the mails and sent out to the property owners of the city. So far, four wards have been completed and mailed and the others will be on their way within the next ten days. The number of cards to be mailed totals 25,000, the City Treasurer states.

Tobacco Experts Smoke Luckies 2 to 1

Lee Moore—who judged 1½ million lbs. of tobacco in 3 weeks—explains why so many independent experts "go for" Luckies

"MY LIFE has been tobacco," says Mr. Moore. "I started as a tobacco farmer. Then, in 1909, I became an independent buyer—in 1920 a warehouseman—and since 1927 I've had my own tobacco warehouse in Georgia.

"It's a matter of dollars and cents to me to be able to judge tobacco quickly and accurately. Now I know exactly what kind of tobacco Lucky Strike buys. So I've smoked Luckies for 11 years."

This is the honest opinion of an impartial expert who sells tobacco to all cigarette manufacturers, but who is not connected with any. And there are many other such experts who agree with Mr. Moore.

Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts—not connected with any cigarette manufacturer—Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.

Tax Refunds For Year Announced

Three Exceeded Million Dollars According To Federal Report For Year

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Tax refunds for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937, amounted to $32,253,823, including three refunds exceeding $1,000,000 each, the internal revenue bureau reported to the house governmental expenditures committee today.

Top refunds went to Arthur Curtiss James, New York financier, $1,458,102; the American Gas & Electric Co. of New York, $1,126,641; and the Equitable Life Insurance Society of the United States, $1,228,836, all on income.

Refunds to stage and screen actors were headed by Ronald Colman, to whom the bureau turned back $4,791, likewise on income. Others included:

Constance Bennett, $1,312; Alice Joyce Regan Brown, $675; Marion Davies, $1,178; Edna May Oliver, $692; Billie Burke Ziegfeld, $542; Lydell Peck, $1,140, and Arturo and Carla Toscanini, $1,104.

Other notables receiving refunds included:

Adolph Zukor, $8,949; John D. Rockefeller, Jr., $48,657; Warwick Deering, $1,141; George S. Kaufman, $698; A. A. Milne, $1,868, and Walter Winchell, $678.

Refunds of $50,000 and over included on income unless otherwise noted:

Estate of Edward W. Bok, $253,360 (estate); Philadelphia: South Penn Oil Co., $103,369; Pittsburgh: Thomas W. Phillips, Jr., trust, $128,875; Butler Pa.: Auto Car Co., $112,641; Ardmore, Pa.

Roosevelt Will Listen To Group Of Auto Workers

First Of Conferences With Labor Scheduled For White House

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Following his conference last week with a group of the country's leading automobile manufacturers, President Roosevelt today announced a White House conference with officials of the Automobile Workers Union, a CIO affiliate.

Labor was not represented at last week's conference at which Mr. Roosevelt discussed methods of stimulating employment in the industry. He also received suggestions to what he called "high-pressure selling" and suggested the requirements on installment purchases be made a little more rigid.

He will meet the labor representatives Tuesday to discuss economic questions regarding the automobile industry. The White House stated the conference was requested by the union and will be along the lines with that held with the automobile manufacturers.

Those who will attend are: Homer I. Martin, president of the UAW; Richard Frankforton, vice-president, and William Munger, research director.

Langran Speaker At Kiwanis Luncheon

Speaking on "Kiwanis Education," William E. Langran, chairman of the local Kiwanis club's education committee, told his fellow members at luncheon yesterday more about the international service organization of which they are a part.

Mr. Langran's committee sponsored the meeting.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the green-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

T. O. E. Club

Members of the T. O. E. Club met at the home of Victor Smith, East Reynolds street, Tuesday evening. The meeting opened with devotionals led by Joseph McMillen, after which a new member was initiated and enrolled.

The project of the club is in the form of a newspaper concerning activities in the Bethany Lutheran church. The various members act as reporters, their duties being to gather material pertaining to the activities and social events of the various church organizations.

A delicious lunch was served by the host, aided by his mother. Music was also a form of entertainment. Details for the next meeting will be announced.

Editor Blatnik Honored

Miss Belle Blatnik was honored Tuesday evening when a group of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Mary Morris, 414 Buiz street, on Tuesday evening. The devotionals were led by Mrs. Mildred Crowe and a reading was given by Mrs. Amy McCreary. The missionary lesson was in charge of Mrs. George Epertheimer. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess Mrs. Pinner and Mrs. Max Downs.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Epertheimer of North Walnut street.

Fuller Circle

The Fuller Circle of Cotton M. E. church met at the home of Mrs. George Epertheimer, 414 Buiz street, on Tuesday evening. The devotionals were led by Mrs. Mildred Crowe and a reading was given by Mrs. Amy McCreary. The missionary lesson was in charge of Mrs. George Epertheimer. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess Mrs. Pinner and Mrs. Max Downs.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Epertheimer of North Walnut street.

American Home Watchmen

A party with 500 and bingo as the entertainment, took place Tuesday evening at the American Home Watchmen meeting in McGowan hall.

Mrs. Oakley Rowland and Mrs. Clyde Rohrer won the 500 prizes, while Mrs. Tillie Lewis and Mrs. Luther Wino were lucky in bingo. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Mrs. Margaret Hartman, Mrs. Barker and Mrs. Blanche Lewis.

The next meeting will be in two weeks, another cards and bingo party.

St. Joseph's Alumni

Special honors were given to Jean Corutti, who is graduating from Senior high school, on Friday evening at the meeting of the Alumni club of St. Joseph's parish Wednesday evening.

During the meeting plans were made for a skating party and a Valentine party which will be held in the near future. Names were solicited for heads of different committees which will be chosen at the next meeting.

N. K. Club Meeting

Miss Betty Miller, of Harbor street, delightfully entertained members of the N. K. club on Wednesday evening. A short business meeting was conducted.

Wearing robes and playing of musical selections were the main pastimes of the girls during the hours. A delicious luncheon was served by Miss Miller, aided by Mrs. George Miller. Next meeting will be in the home of Miss Catherine Lewis, on Bell avenue, Wednesday, February 9.

H. H. '34 Club

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Mitchell, Graceland road, were hosts to 14 members of the H. H. '34 club on Wednesday evening. Bridge whiled away the evening hours with high scores being won by Mrs. Clarence Clugensmith and Harry Hitchling. The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Margaret Mitchell, in serving a tempting lunch.

On February 9 Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Neighbors, Leisure avenue, will entertain the club.

Maxwell Circle

Miss Edith Intioff, a missionary from India, was a special guest and gave a most interesting talk about India at the meeting of the Maxwell circle of the Epworth church, on Monday evening. Mrs. William Johns, Glenmore boulevard, was hostess to the circle.

Miss Intioff displayed several native costumes to illustrate her address. Later, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Edith Browning.

The time and place of the next meeting will be announced later.

R. W. A. Club

Members of the R. W. A. club met at the home of Mrs. Anna Maria Mastroianni, Lutton street, Wednesday evening. Divisions of the evening were cards and sewing with Rose Sera winning the card prize. Louise Tescano was welcomed into the club as a new member at this time. Assisted by her mother, Mrs. Joseph Mastroianni, the hostess served delicious refreshments.

February 2 is the date set for the next meeting which will be at the home of Judy Galloja, Morton St.

Defense Will Be Increased

Expect All Arms Of Federal Defense Service To Be Expanded

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The building up of all arms of the federal government—the army, the navy and the air services—to full protective strength is expected to be recommended by President Roosevelt in his forthcoming message to Congress on national preparedness.

While the chief executive's original plans contemplated big increases in the navy's strength, general conditions throughout the world, notably the big armament programs being advanced by other nations, caused him to consider similar increases in the army and in the military and naval air forces.

He has made a thorough study of the country's defense needs in numerous conferences with Secretary of the Navy Swanson and members of the navy and war department high command. Before starting a Happenings And Items Of Interest At Big Tin Plate Plants Here.

Why The Storehouse Is An Important Factor In The Manufacture Of Tin Plate—By A. E. Frazer—Storekeeper.

It has often been said that an army travels on its stomach, and in our opinion, an industrial plant such as ours moves forward and exists, to a certain extent, on its storehouse.

The storehouse is a supply or service unit for all departments of the plant, be it an insignificant box of carpet tacks or a hot mill housing weighing fifteen tons. A carload of white pine lumber, which was logged and dressed in the state of Washington prior to a three thousand-mile haul from the Pacific coast, is handled from a standpoint of routine, exactly in the same manner as is the procedure in procuring a package of paper towels. Both commodities are covered by requisitions and each is disbursed only on a storehouse order, the disbursement being the equivalent of money in industry.

The storekeeper and his assistants are responsible for the ordering, disbursing and recording of every commodity, raw material excepted, pertaining to the manufacture of our product and with the cooperation of each department a supply of regularly used materials is maintained proportionate to the volume of production and in line with established inventory control policies. No definite rules can be permanently established in a purchasing policy without unfavorable reaction on storehouse stocks due to fluctuations in the consumption of materials, so it is absolutely necessary that minimum quantities of materials be carried to avoid overstocking.

Mr. Average Citizen indubitably knows the necessities of his home from month to month, but has probably little or no conception of what is required in miscellaneous items to service an industry the size of Shenango Works.

In order to light this plant during the year of 1937, it was necessary for the storehouse to issue 14,000 Mazda lamps, the wash and locker rooms used 4800 bars of soap and 1,087,500 paper towels, 1450 brooms were purchased in order to help maintain the management's viewpoint of cleanliness and good housekeeping, 600,000 feet of lumber was supplied for general plant maintenance and repairs and shipment of product, 27,140 gallons of gasoline were burned in our tractors and trucks and 51,400 gallons of oil consumed in lubricating the wheels of this industry.

The above are only a few of the eight thousand or so different items carried regularly in stock and during last year over fifty thousand separate lots of materials were issued from the storehouse with a valuation high in six figures.

The storehouse is an extremely interesting department, a necessary spoke in the "Shenango Wheel" and the slogan "We either carry it in stock, we can get it, or it isn't made," is not so far-fetched as it may sound.

SLANTS ON SAFETY

Upon approaching the main entrance to the plant, we not above the gate the following sign:

SHEENANGO WORKS
TIN PLATE CAN BE MADE WITHOUT ACCIDENTS BE CAREFUL TODAY

We believe this slogan is firmly planted in the minds of the men when entering the plant as is evident by our splendid safety record.

On the reverse side of the above sign, the following words are the eye of the man when leaving the plant:

SHEENANGO WORKS
THE REAL REWARD FOR SAFETY IS YOUR WELCOME HOME

THINK

We know of no real reward better than the safety of life and limb, and while we are continually educated in the plant on hazards that may contribute to the loss of these precious assets, we should not drop our "safety consciousness" when passing through the gate on our homeward way. We should carry it as faithfully as we do in the plant. Accident statistics show we are safer in the plant than we are at home or on the streets.

While the public at large and state government authorities are becoming exercised over the number of automobile and highway fatalities occurring in our land, it is being estimated that 45,000 persons were killed in automobile and highway accidents during the year 1937. There is another source of accidents wherein the figures compiled are astounding, and that source is in the "kitchen" at home. More than a million persons were seriously injured and more than eight thousand were killed in the kitchen last year. It might be well to appoint a safety committee in our homes to combat these accidents. What do you say we replace that worn out cord on the electric iron, tighten up the connections on the kitchen stove to prevent gas leaks, inspect furnace flues, fix up that step ladder, keep stairways free from objects, etc. These precautions will help the "missus" in her work and help eliminate possible tragedies. Think it over.

Another death-dealing prowler at large, particularly during the cold weather, is carbon-monoxide. The car owner sometimes runs his engine indoors in order to warm it up before starting out. Meanwhile he may wipe off the car, replace a burned-out light bulb, put on the chains, or perform some other similar task. All this time deadly carbon monoxide is issuing from the exhaust pipe of the car and is mingling with the air in the garage. Only a few minutes are required to produce a dangerous atmosphere in the garage of ordinary size, and since carbon monoxide gives no warning, the car owner may suddenly slump to the floor unconscious and may die, unless somebody discovers him almost immediately and drags him out into the fresh air.

The necessity for warming up the motor has been greatly reduced on the modern car, by the provision of an automatic "choke" which regulates the gasoline-air mixture so that the engine can be started more quickly, and a thermostat which controls the cooling water circulation. But, for safety, the garage doors should be opened wide before starting the motor, and should be secured so that the wind will not blow them shut. Never allow the motor to run in a closed garage.

Mahoning Valley Grange In Session

Plans Are Projected For Entertaining Pomona Grange On February 2

Members of the Mahoning Valley Grange met Tuesday evening in the Grange Hall with the new master, William M. Robison presiding. Plans were projected for entertaining Pomona Grange on Wednesday evening, February 2, the program being in charge of the social committee.

Miss Marian Carlisle was elected pianist at the meeting last evening. In spite of severe weather, there was a large attendance.

After the business session, a short program in charge of the lecturer, Mrs. D. M. Baird, was presented as follows:

Song—Grange.

Reports on State and National Grange meeting—E. F. Munn.

Talks "How we can improve our grange"—Harold Hoyt and Fred Martin.

Vocal Duet—Marian and Russell Carlisle.

Closing Song—Grange.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pounds of waste products each day. Frequent urination is a sign of healthy kidneys. If you are not passing 3 pounds of waste each day, your kidneys may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of sleep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

P. AND D. CLUB

The ninth annual meeting of the P. and D. club will be held in a local tea room, Saturday evening, January 29, in the form of a banquet and a get-together. This club is composed of foremen and office men and this annual event is looked forward to with a great deal of anticipation.

CARNEGIE-ILLINOIS CHORUS

An excellent itinerary of concerts is being planned by William Richards, director of chorus, for the next few months, and he requests that every member of all sections of the chorus, male, female and mixed, report for the regular rehearsal next Sunday, January 30, at 2:30 p. m. in the Y. W. C. A.

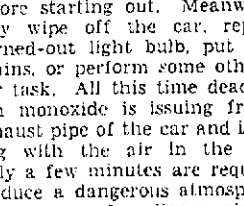

On Sunday evening, February 27, the chorus will appear in the Mahoningtown M. E. church, and will take over the entire evening service. On Sunday evening, March 27, the chorus will appear in the Emmanuel Baptist church, when a delightful program will be rendered after the church services. Concert dates in April are pending—one in Ellwood City for the Foreman's club, National Tube Co., and a broadcast at KDKA in Pittsburgh. The male chorus will also sing at the Tin Workers' Family Night on January 29. All members are urged to request to attend rehearsals regularly.

TIN WORKERS' FAMILY NIGHT

Dave Tucker, Harry Davies and Harry White, including their able assistants, have left no stone unturned to make the Tin Workers' Family Night, to be held at King Humbert hall, Division street, Saturday evening, January 29, a great success. The amateur contest, arranged by Harry White, presided under the direction of Harry Davies, master of ceremonies, is one of a wide variety—anywhere from "close harmony" to trick roller skating. Prominent citizens will act as judges to select the three best acts on the program, and all other acts that appear on the program shall receive a smaller prize to compensate them for their time and efforts. Round and square dancing will complete the festivities.

Woman Has Close Call In Crash As Auto Hits Train

Escapes Uninjured, But Auto Is Demolished By Train, She Walks Home

FAST ROCKAWAY, N. Y., Jan. 27.—Mrs. Emma Klein, 42, the lady who bounced off railroad trains and emerged from smashups without a scratch, was conceded on all sides today to have more lives than the proverbial cat.

A train was pulling into the station here, the warning bell was ringing, the warning lights were blinking and a watchman was standing in the middle of the crossing carrying a large "stop" sign as Mrs. Klein approached the grade crossing in her automobile.

So Mrs. Klein, according to the watchman, drove past the bell, the lights, the watchman and ran kerpunk into the train.

Her car was turned completely upside down as four wheels in the air. Twenty windows of the first car of the train were smashed.

Twenty minutes later Mrs. Klein was extricated from the auto and rushed to the hospital but she refused to stay there, walking out a few minutes later in tip-top shape.

Seekers At Altar Every Evening At Nazarene Services

Tonight an attractive song service with Prof. Claude Long and his three sisters in charge, and an evangelistic message by Rev. Loy S. Mershimer, is scheduled at the Church of the Nazarene revival. The Long quartet is to sing, among other numbers, a southern melody.

Friday evening all the Sunday school classes with their teachers will be welcomed and Evangelist Mershimer will give a "startling story about the bear."

The "big wagon wheel" that is rolling the debt away is going over the top, it is announced. The wheel was designed by Rev. Lottie Trotter, one of the members of the quartet, and is creating a big interest in the church. The altar has had seekers at the close of each service.

A Sunday school rally is planned for Sunday afternoon. The Longs will offer "The Religion In Song."

AROUND CITY HALL

Dog Catcher Jack Young, and city police have been making a cleanup on unlicensed canines and dogs which people have asked dispatched because of the recent rabies scare. So far this month, 108 canines have been disposed of at the city disposal plant, Manager Ed. Umbright, states.

Compensation cases in the local district will be heard at the city building on February 18. S. F. Dobrowski, referee for the eighth district has notified City Clerk C. Ed. Brown that he will be here on that date and has asked that accommodations be provided for the hearing of pending cases.

Members of the Board of Managers of the city golf course are expected to get together in the near future and establish the rates for the coming season and to transact any other business which may be necessary at this season of the year.

Council Session Today Is Brief

Little Important Business
Comes Before Solons For Discussion This Morning

Little business of importance came before the members of city council at their meeting at city hall this morning.

The director of accounts and finance, J. Leon Fink, certified and approved the purchase of the fire truck from the American La France company as of January 24, 1938.

This truck was purchased by the city last fall and has been put in use, following tests, at the Fourth ward engine house.

The director of accounts and finance also approved the contract for the purchase of stone from the Marshall quarry, on May street, as covered by an agreement approved by council on January 17, 1938, at a price of five cents per ton.

A motion was introduced and approved that the operators of all motor equipment used in city work be required to procure the necessary gasoline and oil from the stocks and supplies maintained by the city. In several instances this has not been done in the past it was pointed out.

The matter of purchasing gasoline for the coming year was also brought up at this time, and a motion was made by Councilman W. H. Dunlap, that the city clerk be instructed to discontinue advertisements for gasoline until the specifications could be changed.

It was brought out that according to the present specifications only one company could comply, and that their office was located outside the city. It was pointed out by Gilbert Long, one of the city solicitors that the advertisement would probably have to be gone through with, but that the bids could be rejected on February 7, the date specified and that new specifications could be drawn.

City Purchasing Agent J. A. Alexander stated that he felt the manner of handling this in the past had proven satisfactory, whereby the gasoline purchases were split up among the different companies, the difference in the contract price between the highest and lowest competing companies being only about three cents.

It was decided to readvertise and have the competing companies furnish their own specifications on the kind of gas they would offer the city.

Helen Hays In Chicago Theatre Saves Situation

Asks Panicky Patrons To Take Their Seats If They Want
Show To Go On

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—A panicky theater audience bowed here last night to the imperious will of "Victoria Regina" as portrayed by Helen Hays.

Alarmed by smoke drifting in from a fire in the building next door, a large number were preparing to leave. Miss Hays stepped to the front of the stage and called:

"If you want this scene to go on we must have quiet. If you do not I will have the curtain lowered."

Cries of "no, no" were the answer as those on their feet settled back in their seats. The tension was broken and the play continued after the manager announced there was no danger.

Church Burns At Pittsburgh Today

Historic 70-year-old Methodist Episcopal Church Burns,
Damage $10,000

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—A four-alarm fire swept through historic 70-year-old Denny Methodist Episcopal church today, causing damage estimated by firemen at $10,000. One fireman was injured in fighting the blaze.

The Rev. Dr. Albert G. Curry, pastor of the church and head of the Goodwill Industries, said the congregation of the church had planned a celebration in October of the 70th anniversary. The church, he said, was founded by Joseph Horne, one of Pittsburgh's pioneer merchants.

Fourteen fire companies fought the flames for more than two hours. Valuable church records were destroyed in the blaze. Two adjoining families were routed from their homes.

Britain Will Send More Vessels Into Mediterranean Sea

(International News Service)
LONDON, Jan. 27.—Britain will send more destroyers to the Mediterranean with order to "shoot on sight" if the recent submarine attacks on merchant ships there develop into a new piracy wave, the London Daily Express reported today.

The report said the British cabinet is planning reinforcement of the present Anglo-French anti-piracy patrol.

County Detective Called To Ellwood

County Detective Paul A. Welsh was called to Ellwood City Tuesday to investigate the robbery of the Wallace Motors company. Thieves had broken in and taken tools valued at $250. The state police also investigated the robbery.

POCKETBOOK TAKEN FROM BEAUTY PARLOR

Report was made to police that someone had stolen a pocketbook from the Louis Beauty Shop on the second floor of the L. S. and T. building, around 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. This morning, the empty pocketbook was found behind a radiator on the first floor by the custodian of the building. The loss was not given.

AUTO IS STOLEN IN ELLWOOD CITY

City police were informed last evening of the theft of a Dodge sedan, bearing Pennsylvania license No. 84R1, from Louis D'Amore, of R. F. D. No. 7. The car was taken while it was parked at Crescent avenue and Fourth street, Ellwood City, between 9 and 11 p. m., on January 26.

JAPAN-RUSSIA IN UNDECLARED WAR ALONG FRONTIERS

though it may be, such a report gives an idea of the feelings of the contestants, if not a reliable estimate of the scale of hostilities.

Japanese Hide Time.

The record proves that no "frontier incident" will ever start the war. It will only begin when the Japanese are convinced the right time has come. That time will come logically, after the Japanese have finished up their mop-up in China and have consolidated their rear. While it should come before the Russians complete their second Trans-Siberian railway line, and before the red army has recovered from what the Japanese believe to have been the serious effects of the execution of the eight red generals upon the red army's morale and leadership.

If it were left up to the Kwantung army, as the Japanese call their forces in Manchuria, the war might start today. The Kwantung army, composed of the best Japanese regulars, is intended to fight the Soviet Union. The less serious affair in China was handled mostly by the Japanese reserves.

Independent Of Tokio.

The leaders of the Kwantung army have always behaved with the utmost independence of Tokio. In 1931, when Tokio wavered in its determination to take Manchuria, the Kwantung army leaders settled the matter with an ultimatum that if Tokio did not want to seize Manchuria the Kwantung army would do it alone and present the little gift to his imperial majesty, and then how would the government feel? The government felt like going ahead.

At any moment the Kwantung army might repeat this maneuver but the likelihood is that it will wait for the completion of the Chinese campaign, now that it has been convinced that the red army is not going to attack. Four months ago the general expectation on the part of the Chinese as well as the Japanese was that Russia would attack because the conditions were so favorable for them.

In September last year the Japanese were heavily engaged in China, fighting for a foothold in Shanghai and just beginning to advance in north China. Bogomoloff, the Soviet ambassador to Nanking, and General Levine, the Soviet military attaché, flew to Moscow to advise the Kremlin that now was the best time to catch Japan at a disadvantage, and strike her from behind while she faced China.

Both Men Disappear.

Stalin relieved both men of their posts and they have not been heard of since. This characteristically rough repudiation of their advice proved beyond a doubt that the red army was going to wait, because Stalin believes that time is on his side.

This he believes because the far eastern red army, as an independent army, constantly grows in strength as Siberian industry grows. In the last ten years Siberia has increased in population by nearly three million, numbering now around 10,000,000. It is or can be almost entirely independent of western Russia.

The coal of the Kuznetsk basin, the iron of Magnitogorsk, the arsenals, chemical works, and tank and tractor factories of the Urals can supply the far eastern army with everything from guns to transport. They even claim to have their own airplane factories in Siberia.

Furthermore many foreign military observers agree that although the red army in Europe must have been badly hit by the execution of Marshal Tukhachevsky and his seven best generals, the far eastern army was relatively untouched. All the victims belonged to the European army. Blucher-Galen, commander-in-chief of the far eastern army, is apparently more powerful than ever.

Weaken Offensive Power.

On the other hand, the re-introduction of political commissars in all the fighting forces of the Soviet Union is not only a sign of the distrust Stalin entertains of his army but in the opinion of every foreign observer is bound to weaken its offensive power. It must be onerous enough to every red officer in peace time to have to submit every order to counter-signature by a communist party man, but what of war time? To wage a battle with a party spy at the elbow of each officer must be difficult indeed. Yet it should be remembered that bolsheviks did it successfully once before when the infant red army, political commissars and all, fought off the allied intervention.

The far eastern air fleet, however, is admittedly untouched either by the slaughter of the generals or by the system of political commissars. Soviet war pilots alone among the army officers, do not have to carry a commissar because there is no room for him.

May Have 2000 Planes.

It is as good as your life is worth to ask questions in Vladivostok about details of the army, but I finally made friends with a pilot officer, and obtained a rough idea of the strength of the far eastern air fleet. It is, he declared, larger than the entire Japanese air fleet, which lists 1,000 first-line warplanes. "How much larger?" I asked. "Twice as large," he replied, and although he may seem to be boasting, information from every other source indicates that in truth the far eastern air fleet may number with its reserves a total of 2,000 warplanes.

Admittedly the Russian pilots are extremely good, and far better than the Japanese, whose bravery is beyond reproach, but whose eyesight is not. Upon his air fleet, Stalin banks heavily. His air bases are numerous and far more handy for supplies than the Japanese bases in Manchuria and inner Mongolia. The Russians believe that in the first few weeks of aerial combat they could cripple, if not annihilate the Japanese air fleet. They certainly have shown in Spain that they are skillful air fighters, while the Japanese when fighting plane to plane with the Chinese, proved themselves defective in maneuver and inferior to the Chinese in accuracy of fire.

Most important consideration of all, however, is Stalin's desire to wait for the completion of the secure trans-Siberian railway. My trip across Siberia and Russia gave me an unusual chance to weigh the importance of this major factor in the major conflict of the far east. By good fortune I was able to obtain a map of the railway, which is being built in such secrecy that to mention it in the Soviet Union is bad form. The new railway requires another article to describe it.

Sculptor Given Government Job, Will Get $45,600

Michael Lantz, 29, Of New Rochelle, N. Y., Can Now Leave Relief Rolls

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Michael Lantz, 29, of New Rochelle, N. Y., stepped forth today as the Cinderella man of the relief rolls.

By winning the treasury department's open competition, Lantz quit federal relief for a $45,600 federal sculpturing job.

His models were declared the best out of 494 for the two sculptural groups that will be installed on the new Federal Trade Commission building. His model depicts a heroic-sized work horse being held in check by a strong man. The treasury offered $45,600 for the work.

The Townsmen Hear Dr. McIlvaine Speak

"You Get What You Expect" was the subject of an inspiring message Dr. John J. McIlvaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, gave before members of The Townsmen at the Y. M. C. A. last night.

The organization's community fathers-sons banquet committee headed by Dr. G. S. Bennett, honorary chairman, and John R. Hodge, active chairman, earlier in the evening drafted additional details for the Cathedral dinner on the night of February 24.

AUTO CLUB SENDS ROOSEVELT PROTEST ON FUNDS SLASHING

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—The Automobile club of Pittsburgh today attacked President Roosevelt's proposal to curtail federal aid funds for highway construction and maintenance. The club sent a telegram of protest to the joint session of a house and senate committee which is considering the proposal.

Pennsylvania annually receives $5,000,000 annually in federal aid, the Automobile club secretary said.

United States Aiding France In Financial Setup

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The United States is exerting every effort to assist France in her financial crisis, a treasury spokesman revealed today.

These efforts primarily are directed at maintaining stability of the franc in the American money market and to forestall adoption of blocked exchange by the French government, a situation which would seriously hamper French-American trade.

The treasury is buying and selling francs under the tri-partite monetary agreement of which this country, Great Britain and France are members.

Old Garage Building Being Reconstructed For Recreational Work

William Dean, Epworth street, this week, we discovered the door of an old building was open, so went in to see if anything was going on. Just inside the door was a pile of sand and an opened bag of cement, and some second-hand brick. Looking around it was plain to see "somebody was doing something," but who? Presently we heard a little noise and soon found the workman. He was Earl W. Dean of 426 Epworth street.

Asked as to what the building would be used for after being repaired and rebuilt, Mr. Dean said he proposed to use it for educational and recreational activities in the community.

When he took over the building, four months ago, which was used as a garage about ten years ago, it was in a bad state of repair, the roof sagged down, vandals having removed some wooden supports, parts of the walls had gone bad, windows were broken, in fact, most everything was in a state of collapse.

Mr. Dean has been doing repairing and rebuilding in his spare time. He has been teaching classes in adult education for some time, at Castlewood, Lincoln and Garfield, and North street schools, having as his subject, Diesel engines, auto-mechanics, electricity, and woodwork.

He expects to have the building, which is 27 feet by 60 feet, completed by early spring.

The walls have been rebuilt with brick set in cement. An additional ten windows, 48" by 54" have been put in. These windows were formerly in buildings of the Carnegie Steel Co. here, donated by the Pan-ella Wrecking Co. through the intercession of Councilman Alexander.

The balance of the material has been purchased by Mr. Dean.

The front end will be entirely rebuilt, which will give the building an enhanced appearance. An overhead swinging door will be installed in the front, for driving autos in and out, that will be worked on by the auto class.

The roof has been entirely reconstructed, and is supported by five brick pillars, which replace wooden supports, and will be covered by 3-ply roofing paper. The cement floor will be smoothed up with a grinder. The building required for electric light. A heater has been purchased, and will be installed as soon as the chimney is built.

The finished building will contain one large recreation room, in which general activities can be carried on. Then a large shop-room, where woodworking and auto-mechanics can be taught, also two small reading rooms, suitable for drawing, reading, or similar activities.

At present Mr. Dean is holding his classes in the North street school, every evening and on Wednesday and Friday afternoons. He desires the attendance of persons from the age of 15 years and upwards.

Mrs. Harold Currie has returned to her home after spending the past two weeks at Highland Heights caring for her mother, Mrs. J. Knight, who was injured in a fall at her home, but is able to be around again.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bowers and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Weeter spent last Friday evening at the H. F. Daufen home.

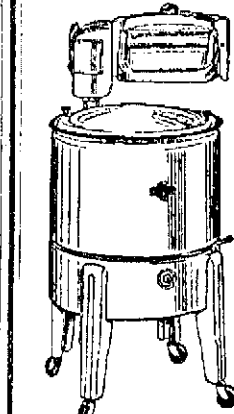

The evening was spent in playing five hundred with Mrs. Bowers and Mrs. Weeter being the winners.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bowers, Mr.

and Mrs. H. F. Daufen, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Weeter and daughter Donna, of Castlewood; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Daufen and family, of Camp Run, and Mr. and Mrs. George Vollroth, Jr., of Zellenophle, were guests at the Garrett West home at Criders Corners on last Saturday evening.

The evening was spent in playing five hundred with three tables in play. At an appropriate hour a delicious oyster supper was served by the hostess and aides.

Antem Lang, who has the part of Christ in the Oberammergau Passion Play, is suspended on the cross by means of a stout belt under his loin cloth. A hook is fixed on the cross and the belt passes over it. He curves his fingers over the nails in the cross piece and as he hangs suspended for twenty minutes, the physical strain is very severe. A bag of wine, secreted in the loin cloth and punctured by a soldier provides the red stain when he is pierced by the spear.

Extols Romance Of Wally And Edward

Prince Christopher Of
Greece In His Memoirs
Tells Of Introduction

Describes How Utterly In Love With Mrs. Simpson
That Duke Became

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 27.—Something of a bombshell was dropped into the circle of British royalty today with publication of the memoirs of Prince Christopher of Greece, in which he extolled the romance of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor in rhapsodic phrases.

The sensation arose from the fact that Prince Christopher, in addition to being a ranking member of European royalty, is the uncle of the Duchess of Kent, the former Princess Marina of Greece, who married the Duke of Windsor's favorite brother.

Tells Of Introduction
Prince Christopher told in detail of the court function at which he first met the former Mrs. Wallis Warfield while the Duke of Windsor was still Prince of Wales. At that time, he said, the prince described the American woman who was later to become his wife as "wonderful."

"As Prince of Wales and King," Prince Christopher said, "Edward knew hundreds of women more beautiful and many more suited to the position of becoming his wife than Mrs. Wallis Warfield."

"But these considerations did not weigh with him. She was simply the woman he loved, and it had to be everything or nothing. He is one of those predestined people blessed or cursed by the gods with temperament and imagination and in immense capacity for happiness or suffering."

Describes Meeting
Describing his first meeting with the present Duchess of Windsor at Buckingham Palace on the eve of his niece's wedding to the Duke of Kent, Prince Christopher said:

"Edward gripped my arm. 'GEE, MARY, WHAT'S HAPPENED TO YOUR GOLD — IT'S GONE?' I TOOK CASCO TABLETS. In the purple box."

FAT WOMEN SMOTHER IN TIGHT GIRDLES

Tight girdles and stiff foundation garments actually make many women look fatter. Instead of squeezing your fat, why don't you try to get rid of it? Why not have a slim, lovely, youthful figure that needs but little little control?

Thousands of overweight women have found that the Marmola way is the easy way to get rid of ugly fat. Just take 4 Marmola Prescription Tablets each day, and in place of starch, foods like potatoes and pastries, eat more salads, fruits, cream vegetables, and no starchy meats. This simple diet isn't it? Yet what a difference Marmola and this little change in your diet may make in your weight. Losses of 5 to 8 pounds a week have been reported in many cases from this simple, easy method of reducing. Marmola Prescription Tablets contain the same element prescribed by many doctors in treating their fat patients. Get a box at your drug store today and send that ugly fat on its way.

Workmen Are Making Progress On Church Redecorating Task

Interior Of Mahoningtown
Presbyterian Church Being Cleaned And Painted

Workmen engaged in redecorating, cleaning and painting the interior of the Mahoning Presbyterian church are making good progress. This work was started a short time ago, and the men are now cleaning the main Sunday school room in preparation for painting. All of the rooms will be cleaned, painted and repairs made.

Last fall the outside of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church was completely gone over, and repairs made where needed. At that time it was decided that the interior work should be done, but it would not be started for several months.

Couple Elope And Take Family Auto, Police Notified

(International News Service)
TOLAN, Mass., Jan. 27.—Marry the boss' daughter, once advised Professor Robert E. Rogers, of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Today a namesake, John R. Rogers, discovered he was minus not only his employe and his daughter, but the family automobile.

A note in the bedroom of his daughter, Gladys, 17, revealed she had run away with Daniel Kelley, who worked for Rogers and lived at his home. The note added they were taking the Rogers automobile and would return it when they came back.

Rogers notified state police.

Harris Says He Will Not Run

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—Repul-ican County Chairman Frank J. Harris, back from a trip to Philadelphia, disclaimed any idea of running for office in the state campaign.
Harris, who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for lieutenant governor, said:
"I am not interested in being a candidate and you can quote that."
The term "batstormers," as applied to strolling actors, owes its origin to the custom of giving plays in barns when regular theaters were not available.

Food And Milk Shortage Result Of Snow Storms

Upper Peninsula Of Michigan Faces Serious Situation Is Report

(International News Service)
MARQUETTE, Mich., Jan. 27.—Serious food and milk shortages threatened some communities in Michigan's upper peninsula today as the most severe blizzard in 60 years left highways closed with high banks of snow.

The 4,000 highway department workers engaged in the 24-hour-a-day job of "clearing out" were hampered by 6,000 WPA workers, put on special duty by Governor Frank Murphy, who described the three-day blizzard and wind storm a "disaster". Highway department officials said three-quarters of the peninsula main highway mileage has been cleared.

The storm left three dead, including a baby who died of exposure in a Mushing hospital after it spent the night on an open highway in a stalled car.

Four Newberry youths missing since Tuesday were reported safe at a farmhouse near Engadine.

Thousands March On City Hall In Philadelphia, Pa.

Thousands Angered At Proposal To Enact Two Per Cent Sales Tax

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—Angered at city council's proposal to enact a two per cent sales tax, thousands of Philadelphians today marched upon city hall in what was perhaps the greatest protest demonstration this city has ever known.

The vanguard of the marching reached the municipal edifice just as the councilmen were preparing for final passage of the tax measure. Moved up for final passage also were four other proposed ordinances calculated to raise the funds needed to balance the city's budget. The latter measures provide for four-mill taxes on gross assets of mutual savings fund societies and mutual life and fire insurance companies with home offices here, and a $2.50 tax on each outdoor advertisement sign.

Council pushed ahead with what critics termed the "sunk the poor" levy in spite of city controller Robert C. White's warning that he would refuse to certify to any income from such tax. White based his refusal on an opinion by the city solicitor that the ordinance as drafted is unconstitutional.

Cavalcant Will Assist In Probe At Uniontown, Pa.

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—State Sen. Anthony Cavalcante, Fayette Democrat, today expected to meet with the State Motor police's designated investigator at Uniontown tomorrow at the outset of the police probe into the solon's charges of political tampering with civil service examinations.

Still at the capital on "personal business", Cavalcante told International News Service he planned to return to Uniontown tonight.

"Tomorrow I will meet with whoever Col. C. M. Wilhelm has designated for the investigation," he explained. "Beyond that the situation is unchanged."

Gov. George H. Earle ordered a thorough motor police investigation yesterday after Cavalcante's allegations that two applicants for unemployment compensation posts had given their examination numbers to Fayette Democratic Chairman Jacob Echard.

Former Postmaster At Franklin Faces Embezzling Charge

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—Charges are to be preferred against J. Lawrence Cullen, former postmaster at Franklin, who resigned last month, Charles F. Uhl, U. S. attorney for the western district of Pennsylvania, said today.

The charges will be presented to the next session of the federal grand jury, according to Uhl, and are in connection with the alleged embezzlement of five government "baby bonds" which have a value of $1,000 each after maturing in 10 years. It was alleged by Uhl these bonds were converted to personal use.

Cullen was requested to submit his resignation, according to U. S. postal inspectors here.

Police Warring On Bingo And Lotteries

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—Further investigation of merchandise lotteries and professionally promoted bingo games was underway here today by the Better Business Bureau.

City police also joined in the effort to suppress lotteries described as "worse in the past two months than in the past seven years."

Beauty Queen Slaps Newsman—Now It's Romance

HARRY NEIGHER

Romance which began the day Marion Bergeron slapped the face of Harry Neigher for remarks he had made in a Bridgeport, Conn., newspaper column will end in marriage in June for the two. Miss Bergeron was selected as the most beautiful girl in America in 1933. Neigher had written, "It's too bad a sweet kid like that should be exhibiting her torso in a cheap vaudeville show." The slap and contrition followed.

Girl Swing Band Renounces World For Convent

From the world of jazz and night clubs to the spiritual world of a convent. Such is the step of five members of a widely-known night club-playing swing band, who have entered a convent at San Antonio, Tex. For eight years the girls, known as the hot-playing "Texas Ringers", swayed dance audiences throughout the west and the Hawaiian islands. But, according to the leader, Jerry McGee, only girl who didn't join the convent, "they had planned to enter the convent for years". The girls, four of them the Jones sisters, shown above, are now attired in the traditional garb of the order instead of the gay party clothes they wear above.

Two Injured As Car Is Struck

Mrs. Mary Tomskey, Of R. F. D. No. 1, Ellwood City, Taken To Hospital

Mrs. Mary Tomskey, of R. F. D. No. 1, Ellwood City, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital, suffering from lacerations of the scalp and shock as the result of a collision between two automobiles near Kurtz street, on East Washington street, at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Tomskey and her daughter Betty, were removed to the hospital by Frank Sowash, of Spruce street, but the daughter was able to leave the hospital after receiving treatment for lacerations of the face.

According to the report made to city police, H. S. Vanaten of R. F. D. No. 2, ran into the rear of the car of the car driven by Ronald H. Thomas, of 1107 Highland avenue, when the latter's auto stalled. Mrs. Tomskey and daughter were occupants of the Vanaten car.

Confusion At Miners' Session

Complete Autonomy Is Demanded For U. M. W. Districts At Convention

RANK AND FILE REVOLT IS SEEN

By EDWARD LOCKETT
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Shouting and stamping delegates threw the United Mine Workers convention into noisy confusion today with a rank and file revolt, demanding complete autonomy for U. M. W. districts.

From West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Kentucky the delegates fought for the floor and belated to their fellow miners to vote down compromise, partial autonomy proposals of the officers.

The revolting miners sought power for each district in the U. M. W. to elect its own district officers. The officers' report recommended a plan whereby the districts would be permitted to elect district officers except in the important posts of president and secretary-treasurer. Under the officers' plan, these two posts would be continued to be filled by appointment exercised by the international board at Washington.

Again and again the presiding officer futilely pounded for order as the delegates yelled approval of speakers demands for complete autonomy and just as loudly heckled opponents of complete autonomy with shouts of "shut up" and "don't give us a lecture".

Fully a hundred delegates jumped to their feet at the same time when the autonomy issue was placed before the convention.

Mike Yorad of Mather, Pa., brought virtually the entire audience of 2,000 members shouting to their feet when he made a brief blunt demand for complete autonomy.

"I come here today to fight for autonomy," he began. "I haven't anything against U. M. W. officials. I'm not a job seeker. We would have much better cooperation in our districts if we elected our own officers."

John Curtis of Peachtree, W. Va., picked up the microphone.

"I'm here to demand autonomy," he said. "We are going to fight for it."

Cleveland Parkner, a Negro delegate from Mulga, Ala., was shouted down after he uttered a hundred or so words of opposition to autonomy.

Former Kaiser Is 79 Years Old

Celebrates His Birthday Today Quietly With His Family In Doorn

(International News Service)
DOORN, Holland, Jan. 27.—Former Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany today quietly celebrated his 79th birthday in seclusion with his sons and other members of the Hohenzollern family circle.

The former German crown prince and crown princess, Prince Eitel Friedrich and Prince August Wilhelm, were included in the party, as well as a number of the emperor's grandchildren.

Prince Louis Ferdinand, popularly called "Luit", and his fiancée, Grand Duchess Kira of Russia, whose engagement was announced during the Christmas holidays, visited Doorn house for the occasion.

Engagement Ends

It was this engagement which brought to the ex-kaiser a message of congratulations from King George VI, Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mother Mary of England, which the aging exile is said to regard as a sign of reconciliation between himself and the British House of Windsor, ending the estrangement stemming from the World war.

This message was received by the ex-kaiser at the time the engagement was announced—signed "Berthe May and Elizabeth." Belief that the long estrangement at last has been broken was one of the major joys of the aged former ruler on his birthday today.

Although the observance this year was marked by simplicity, it is believed that the celebration of his 80th anniversary next year will be expanded and that a number of former German nobles will visit Doorn.

Yangtze Boss

First assignment for Rear Admiral David M. LeBreton, newly-promoted from a captaincy, will be to command the Yangtze River patrol. His flagship will be the gunboat Luzon, sister ship of the Panay, which was bombed and sunk by Jap airmen.

Dead Actress' Mate

WILLIAM GASTON

William Gaston, estranged husband of the late Rosamond Pinchoff, arrives at Newark, N. J., airport after a flight from his Colorado home. Gaston attended funeral services for the well-known actress who rose to fame for her part in "The Miracle". Miss Pinchoff, niece of the former governor of Pennsylvania, was found dead of carbon monoxide poisoning in the garage of her Long Island home. No cause was given for the suicide.

MRS. LORRAINE DRESSELHUYS

Another American heiress, Mrs. Lorraine Manville-Dresselhuys, has followed the example of the former Barbara Hutton, Woolworth heiress in renouncing her American citizenship to take that of her husband, Mrs. Dresselhuys, sister of the ever-marrying Tommy Manville, married Dresselhuys, wealthy Dutch industrialist, last March.

AUTOS DESTROYED IN RAGING FIRE AT EVANSVILLE

(International News Service)
EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 27.—More than 300 automobiles were destroyed early today in a raging fire that destroyed the Nash Motor Co. branch here and the Goodwill Industries plant.

The blaze caused an estimated damage of $500,000 and for a time threatened the manufacturing district in the downtown section. The sub-zero weather hampered firemen in their three-hour battle.

Combines "Careers"

That it is quite possible to combine a business career with marriage and motherhood if you have what it takes, is proved by Allen Talmei, young magazine editor. Miss Talmei is married and has a five-year-old son. "Work," she says, "gives you a proper sense of values; it makes you a more sympathetic and understanding wife. There are no quarrels when husband comes home tired, there is a better conception of how difficult and nerve wrecking is life in an office. All of which makes for more harmonious living and a perfect environment for children."

Japanese Are Driving Along

Troops Push Forward In Lunghai Battle Area It Is Reported

LARGE SCALE MOVE NOT STARTED YET

(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, Jan. 27.—Pushing forward in the Lunghai battle area, Japanese troops today occupied Lunghai, a railroad town in the "no man's land" southwest of Yenchow.

Nippon's large-scale drive in that area was not yet materialized, however, Japanese authorities here said, but it is expected to get under way as soon as weather conditions permit and sufficient reinforcements are taken to the front.

Meanwhile, Chinese reports from Hankow claimed Japanese troops have withdrawn from the town of Chufu to the north to avoid being encircled by mobile Chinese columns in that area.

Other Hankow adices said 15 Japanese planes raided the temporary capital of Chiang Kai-Shek's regime this morning, concentrating on the military airbase. The raiders also attempted—without success, it was claimed—to bomb the Hankow arsenal.

According to British authorities here, meanwhile, the situation around Shanghai is "deteriorating" owing to the activities of wandering bands of Chinese guerrillas and the "arrogance" of parties of Japanese troops.

National Defense Message Withheld

President Withholds Special Message Due To Death Of Rep. Kenney

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—President Roosevelt was ready today to dispatch to congress his special message proposing substantial reinforcement of all branches of national defense, but withheld it after the house had adjourned because of the death of Rep. Edward A. Kenney, of New Jersey.

The message will be sent to congress tomorrow.

Shenango Gridders Honored At Banquet

Shenango Township High Squad Receives Emblems At Event Wednesday

FETE STAGED BY SHENANGO P. T. A.

In the neatly arranged Shenango high gymnasium, members of the 1937 Shenango Township high gridiron squad were delightfully entertained at a banquet given by the Shenango P. T. A. Wednesday evening.

The organization overlooked nothing and provided charming hosts and hostesses. The occasion opened with serving of delicious spaghetti prepared in true Italian style. The husky squad proved quite adept at wrestling the tasty food. All the trimmings were tossed in and spelled "a hony of a menu."

Teddy Speaks

G. W. "Pop" Johnston, principal of the school, opened the program with a few remarks, after which he called Frank Nocera, coach, who introduced Archie Todds, Slippery Rock physical education director, who delivered an interesting address. He reviewed the history of football in a comprehensive manner. He explained the development of the game and told about the first football game in the United States between Rutgers and Princeton, back in 1869. (By the way, the staunchest follower of the Shenango team, and one of the most active members of the P. T. A., followed with a brief address in which he congratulated the squad for the fine showing. He stated that despite the unusual hard schedule, the team came through with flying colors, never losing their spirit or sportsmanship.)

Coach Nocera then introduced Jack Thomas, 1937 captain, who gave a brief address. He expressed his sorrow that he would not be present for the '38 season. Mr. Johnston paid a fitting tribute to Coach Nocera. "I am pleased with the fine work of the coach. The schedule was the hardest we ever had since I have been here. Nocera's team did quite well. He also complimented the gridirers for their fine work."

Coach Nocera, the next speaker, thanked the boys for their splendid co-operation and wished the graduating classmen all the luck in the world. Captain Thomas was called again and introduced the senior gridirers who responded with a few words.

Charles A. Landolf, sports writer of The News staff, was the final speaker of the evening. Mr. Landolf commended the Shenango team for their "never give up" spirit, which they displayed throughout the season, whether the team was winning or behind. He reviewed the season briefly and stated that Shenango lost five out of nine games, but the East New Castle team was never outfought. He closed by wishing the 1938 eleven success.

The occasion closed when Coach Nocera presented attractive blue and gold letters to the group. During the course of the event, the committee in charge was introduced.

Coach Frank Nocera presented letters to the following gridirers: (several of the young men were not present) Jack Thomas, Ernest Tanner, Alfred Collingwood, Steve Tratz, John Pappas, Francis Donley, Joseph Dambrosia, Philip Phelps, Peter St. John, Earl Martin, Jr., Francis Pitzer, Carl McIlroy, Howard Clark, Billy Latham, Harry Dunsen, Norman Currie, Vito Palermo, Sam Mounier, Robert Deney, Joan Peluso and Eugene Francescone, student manager.

The committee in charge included: Mrs. Lippman, Mrs. Ed. Earl, president, Mrs. Zursky, Mrs. Boehner, Miss Lyle, I. Lyle, Mrs. Wiles. Those who assisted in serving: Miss Ackerman, Miss West, Miss Smith, Miss McIlhatter and Mrs. Mounier.

The occasion was a marked success from every standpoint and a feather in the hats of the members of the Shenango Township P. T. A.

New Castle At New Brighton Friday Night

Will Seek Sixth Victory In Section Three, Tied With Ambridge

New Castle High school basketball team will go to the New Brighton high court in Dawes gym Friday night to meet the fast New Brighton high team. The locals hope to annex their sixth Section Three victory of the year. The rosters of both teams will play the preliminary game at 7 o'clock.

At the moment the New Castle boys and Ambridge High boys are having an argument as to just who leads the section, each has won five and lost one. Beaver Falls will play at Ambridge on Friday night, and if the Falls boys win and New Castle can defeat Brighton, it will be first place undisputed for New Castles.

Head Coach Biddenbaugh will have his strongest possible lineup available for the game, with Nocera and Koszela raring to go. Strausbaugh at center, and Carey and Snyek at the guards, has been the starting lineup lately and they are clicking nicely.

The other sectional game Friday takes the Allegheny team to Ellwood City for a game.

The New Castle team will travel to New Brighton by bus under the supervision of Head Coach Biddenbaugh and Faculty Manager Ralph Gardner.

Falcon Veterans Trip Foes 34-28

The Falcon Veterans basketball team topped the Palatka Pals in a preliminary game at the Falcon court, 34 to 28. The Old Timers were led by Stan Koszela, E. Keudra and J. Beron. Beron looked impressive as they thrashed the four Union High stars. Hughes and Latimer led the attack for the losers.

The Falcon Vets will play any of the first teams in New Castle, Sec. E. "Ratsy" Kendra, Andy McHale or Marion Kolodjicki.

Yankees Having Some Trouble With Holdouts

By LAWTON CARYER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—As expected, the problems of the New York Yankees gradually are multiplying as they go about their business of trying to sign up their players and today Lefty Vernon Gomez was in the ranks of the holdouts. Thus he joins Joe DiMaggio among the recalcitrants.

Gomez' announcement from Reno, Nev., where he is seeking to divorce his wife was not entirely unexpected and comes in the name of a new business for the Yankee office. What they will do now is seek to reach a compromise with him.

Gomez Wants $20,000

Gomez revealed that he was offered a contract calling for $15,000, which meant a $1,500 raise. However

Close Trout Streams For Spawning Areas

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—Closing of streams in three counties by the Fish Commission with the object of having them serve as nursery waters and spawning areas for trout and other species of fish life was announced today by Commissioner of Fisheries C. A. French.

In Clinton county, Trout Run, from the Fork up stream; Walther Run over its entire length; Bearfield Run over its entire length; Herter Run over its entire length; and Spicewood Run over its entire length were closed as spawning streams and waters in which small trout could grow to larger size before dropping downstream.

In Crawford county, the northern end of the Shenango river below the dam at Pymatuning Lake was closed to afford better opportunity for warm water species to spawn.

Nursery waters closed in Montgomery county were ponds, two on the Howard Beldler property at Abrams, one on the Frank Hankins property at Collegeville, one on the G. B. French property at Grater, and two on the Joseph Hippel property at Marwood.

Rambling Around In Local Sports World

We salute the graduating athletes, life begins anew for exactly a dozen young men on Friday. We refer to the New Castle high athletes who in the past few years have thrilled thousands of fans either on the greensward of Taggart stadium or on the basketball court. We salute these young men who gave us thrills galore with their spectacular performances. With the salute goes the hope that they may all enter one of the many colleges in the United States and forge to the front in the classroom as well as on the baseball field, gridiron, basketball court or in whatever sport they compete in. Following is the list of "Hurricane" athletes who will receive their diplomas Friday night.

Again we salute you young men who upheld the colors of Ne-Ca-Hi wherever you played.

What about Bill DeCorrevont, one of New Castle's sports followers? He is a note asking us, "What about DeCorrevont, the lad you published several times in your column. Where will he go? What is the latest development in his case?"

There isn't any one in the sports world who knows where DeCorrevont will go. Friday, the lad who overshadowed any All American selected last season, will be 19, and incidentally, he will be graduated from Austin high in Chicago. He leaves one of the most remarkable records ever amassed by any high school athlete. DeCorrevont, the gridiron, in 10 battles DeCorrevont crossed the land where touchdowns bloom on 35 different occasions. He scored 21 points, carrying the ball 1145 yards from the scrimmage line. He gained 1872 yards, which includes passes, punt returns and kick-offs.

Without a doubt, he was the most watched athlete in high schools. In one game, 120,000 spectators watched DeCorrevont perform in a charity game in Chicago. It has been estimated that approximately 75 colleges and universities are in the market for this speed merchant.

DeCorrevont, a shy and modest young man, will not say, however, he has indicated that he favors a school in the mid-west, one of the "Big Ten." He wants to work after getting his sheep-skin tomorrow.

Already 25 offers have poured in. Some experts predict that he will wind up being a greater star than the famed "Red" Grange of Illinois fame.

Presenting Luisetti the second, the mid-west has its own Hank Luisetti in the persons of Nick Frascella, of Wooster, Ohio. As a sophomore forward, Frascella dumped in 28 markers and has been hot ever since. Nick's a senior and is aiming at 500 points for one season. In the last two years he has come too close for comfort, popping in 296 and 255 points, respectively. He is far ahead so far and seems a sure pot to make the mark during the past three years. He has averaged 18 points per game. He is perfectly built for basketball, being past the six foot mark and weighs more than 180...against Duquesne. Nick sits the meshes for 26 points....

In case you care to know Andy Devine, who entertains movie fans with his comical talk, was a former grid star at Santa Clara. Joe E. Brown, the actor with the unusually large mouth, was a former baseball club owner. Jean Smith, Northwestern's leading scorer, is the tallest as well as the lightest man on the squad. He stands 6 feet 3 and weighs about 150. In a floor game between Libertyville and Arlington Heights, in Illinois, 26 out of 27 charity tosses were missed. Only 25 players received monograms at Notre Dame. This represents the smallest group since 1928. Coach Gilman, Deane is counting the days until the 1938 grid season starts. You can't blame him. His Boston College 1937 Freshman line averaged 217 pounds. Football had its inception at Alabama in 1892. Nathan Mann, who is carded to face Joe Louis soon, has been beaten only twice in four years of professional fighting. Ray North, star diver on the Northwestern University swimming team, is also the Wilkes varsity leader.

Richard Pugh Is Star Marksmen Of Penn-Ohio League

Makes Highest Average This Season For Locals; Jesse Moore Second

With the first half of the Pennsylvania-Ohio League season over, and the New Castle Rifle club the first-half champion, several of the boys sharpened their pencils the other night and figured out the averages made by the local club members.

Richard Pugh, one of the pillars of the club, was ahead of them all, with an average score of 191 and nine-fourteenths. Jesse Moore came second with 188 and three-eighths; Bill Houck third with 186 and thirteen-fourteenths; Hunter fourth with 186 and three-eighths; McKibben fifth with 185 and seven-eighths; Waddington sixth with 185 and three-thirtieths; Hockenberry seventh with 185 and three-thirtieths, and Crumer eighth with 185.

The rest of the club made averages just a few points lower, all good scores, or New Castle wouldn't be leading the league.

East Siders To Meet Tonight For An Organization

There will be a meeting of an interested group of athletes at the "Y" tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of organizing an East Side Athletic Club.

The following are asked to attend the meeting: Sheri M. M. "Cy" Ligran, Bronie Ostrosky, Orville Polter, Mitz Dant, Dave Riley, Paul Louver, Bob King, Paul Layton, Marshall Clotto, Dan Richards, Frank Baptiste, William Frick, Russell Shaw, Tony Chan, Gus Thompson, Cecil Porter, Jack Hulbert, Charles Bishop, Frank Coen, Eddie Priz, and Larry Allen.

GERSONS SET FOR HARRISVILLE TEAM

Manager Walter Perch and his powerful Gersons basketball team will take to the highways once more, this time in the direction of Harrisville, where the locals are slated to play the Shamrocks of that city tonight.

The Shamrocks' roster includes former Slippery Rock college and Harrisville high stars.

Heavyweights To Stage Battles

New York City Will See Several Heavyweight Engagements — Louis Starts Training

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Activity in the heavyweight division today promised to reach a new high within the next few months with Champion Joe Louis, Nathan Mann, Tommy Farr, Jim Braddock, Max Baer and Jimmy Amadick all figuring in Promoter Mike Jacobs' plans.

The expected signing tomorrow of Braddock and Farr for a 12-round rematch on April 1 was postponed because of the promoter's departure for Miami last night, but he was confident they would agree to terms upon his return next week.

He is making the Miami visit to complete plans for an ice show starring Sonja Henie.

Louis defends his title against Mann here on February 23 and both already have gone into training.

Jacobs announced that he hopes to close a match within the next few days between Baer and Adamick, hard-hitting young Michigan heavy, for March 11 and then pit the winner against the survivor of the Braddock-Farr rematch.

The answer, they say, is a "misunderstanding" or series of misunderstandings—dating back some years—between the four doctor and Elmer Layden, football coach and athletic instructor at Notre Dame. They also say that it could have been squared by a handshake, or either of a series of two handshakes.

But the doctor was absent-mindedly looking down at his shirt studs or something. So much for the supposed cause.

The immediate effect is that Pitt loses the Notre Dame football receipts, which are not inconsiderable. Southern Methodist, the replacement on the schedule will hardly make up the difference, whereas Notre Dame resumes with Georgia Tech, an old enemy, and will do a bit better than last night.

The delayed effect is that the doctor may, indeed, seek greener and fresher fields when his contract expires at the end of next season.

Jack Not Happy

It is no secret, in fact, that he hasn't been wholly happy in his associations there. A year ago, he engaged in a controversy with athletic director Don Harrison, with the result that the latter resigned. There is no evidence that his relationship was the best.

It was the second victory of the year for the Mahonings over the Union Ex-High stars.

Notre Dame And Pitt Break-Up Explained

Davis Walsh Gives "Inside" Story Of Why Notre Dame Is Dropping Pitt

Is Seems As If Elmer Layden Is "Peeved" At Dr. John Bain Sutherland

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Two months ago, the University of Notre Dame calmly and dispassionately announced that it was dropping Pitt from its list of opponents in football. Two days ago, Notre Dame announced that it was dropping Pitt in basketball, thus wiping out the relationship—in toto and intact.

Today, I have what purports to be the answer, and I'm pleased to doubt whether it is definitely known up to now, even to Dr. Jock Sutherland, the Pitt football coach.

Beggs-Gordon To Join Yanks

Former Geneva College Javelin Star Will Get Tryout With Yanks

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Young Joe Gordon, late of the Newark Bears, today was confronted by one of the toughest jobs baseball will have to offer next season.

His transfer from the New York Yankee farm to the roster of the champions was completed yesterday, meaning that he will start the coming campaign trying to succeed Tony Lazzeri at second base, where the latter was a fixture through more than a decade dating back through the Ruth era.

Cat May Have Nine Lives But This Dog's In Running

We have heard it said "a cat has nine lives". If so, how many has a dog?

A young dog followed a travelling salesman into a local hotel. No owner could be found, so the "pup" settled down at the hotel for "the life of Riley".

The first serious mishap occurred to him about a year afterwards, when he swallowed a portion of a rubber bone. He had gone as thin "as a rail". Some veterinarians thought it was gastritis or indigestion and fed him through the side, and there is quite a scar in his side. Finally a Youngstown veterinarian operated on the dog, and took the rubber bone out of his interior. He was coming along O. K. after his operation. One day he went with his master up the alley near the hotel, towards a garage. He had an aversion towards motor-cycles and noisy autos. An old car went past and he rushed at it and "sidled" into the back wheel and got the worst of it. He came back dragging his hind leg.

Again he was taken to the "vet" and it was found that he had a broken pelvis and other injuries. The hip was placed in a cast well bound on, and it healed up splendidly. Since that time he has had a wholesome respect for automobiles, and does not cross the street until he gets the word "allright".

He has been at the hotel for three years; can perform various tricks, and is a great favorite with the guests.

ATTACK HEARING TO BE HELD ON MONDAY

Pleading not guilty before Alderman Wallace J. Evans at his preliminary arraignment Wednesday afternoon, Joseph Davis, Jr., negro, 522 State street, was held by the alderman for a hearing Monday, January 31, at 3 p. m., on an aggravated assault and battery charge brought by Austin Snow, 436 West Grant street. He went to the county jail in default of $1,000 bail.

Stock Market Shows Recovery

Prices Rally During Morning Over Levels Of Close On Wednesday

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The stock market recovered today from yesterday's tumble but the rally only registered a part of the losses of the previous day.

Stocks and other investment securities were in the forefront of the recovery. Industrial stock rose more than a point in advance of the day's trading this afternoon. U. S. Steel was up nearly a point but did not hold all its gain.

Gains in aviation ran to a point, led by Douglas and Boeing. Coppers were stronger with American Smelting rising more than a point.

The gold stocks displayed pronounced strength. Dome led with a gain of more than 2 points. Allou Chemical rose 2 points but Point was under some pressure. Among the higher-priced stocks, Westinghouse was up over 2 at one time.

Pain implements were irregular. Deere continued to suffer from passing of its dividend, while the others were firm. Rails were highly irregular. Utilities scored fractional gains. Loews dropped over a point and then regained most of its loss. Other amusements were firm.

Vera Jean Smith Crowned Queen Of Junior WBA Review

Queen Of Rose Court And Attendants Crowned In Pretty Ceremony

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 27.—Wednesday evening proved to be a memorable occasion for members of the Junior W. B. A. Review when they held their annual coronation to crown the queen of the rose court.

Members of the Senior Review, mothers and friends of the Juniors, numbering 75, attended the event, which proved to be a delightful throng and a distinctive tribute to Mrs. A. C. Johnston, supervisor of the organization.

Miss Vera Jean Smith was crowned queen by Mrs. Ethel Thomas, special deputy, of New Castle. The queen was very lovely in a gleaming white satin gown and all of her attendants were charming in gowns of pastel shades of organdie. The throne was in the form of a rose box and the W. B. A. colors were effectively used in the background.

Installed as members of the queen's court were: Helen Le Haven, vice president; Betty Robertson, treasurer; Lorretta Wilson, recording secretary; Peggy Zimmerman, Betty Jane Smith, pages; Betty Parker and Elizabeth Ford, heralds; Mary Dominello and Mary Penness, flower girls; John Bortin, train bearer; Nancy Pierce, Lois Newton and Roberta Dellenbach, attendants.

Other attendants included Betty Campbell, Betty Pierce, Joan Litalano, Dorothy Tanner, Peggy Richoltz, Peggy Zimmerman, Jean Haddock, Phyllis Ashton, Corbett Johnson, Gladys Eichholtz, Norma Howells, Evelyn and Helen Barker, Sarah Martin, Jean Burke and Barbara Gaston.

Appropriate music was played during the ceremonies by Mrs. Irene Mains.

A program that was very much enjoyed followed and included the following numbers: Songs, Corbett Johnson; piano solos, Betty Pierce and Gladys Eichholtz; dancing, Gloria Masker; songs, Norma Jean Howells and Betty Jean Smith; and talks by Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Anna Jones.

Miss Anna Patterson of New Castle, junior supervisor, was a special guest.

Miss Betty Robertson, the past queen, and Mrs. A. C. Johnston were presented with very lovely gifts by the Juniors in appreciation of their splendid services.

An added feature of the evening was the serving of tempting refreshments by Mrs. Lola Wolfe, chairman, and Mrs. Bessie Smith, Mrs. Anna Jones, Mrs. Edna Rosier and Mrs. O. W. Miesel.

Sons Of Legion Install Officers

W. Earl Pitzer, State Committeeman, Conducts Ceremonies

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 27.—W. Earl Pitzer, state committeeman of Beaver Falls installed the newly elected officers of the Sons of Legion of the J. Wilbur Randolph post, at their semi-monthly meeting held last evening in the Legion rooms, in Sixth street.

There were twenty-two members in attendance and four guests from the Beaver Falls organization, Carl Anderson, Jr., Captain Merle Wagner, Raymond Bestley and Carl Anderson. J. Arthur Grandey, supervisor of the Sons of Legion conducted the meeting.

Officers installed were: Captain, Robert Bracken; first lieutenant, Mack Wilson; second lieutenant, William Wilson; adjutant, Robert Crawford; finance officer, Robert Dunning; historian, John Eichholtz; chaplain, Fred Commere, Jr. and sergeant-at-arms, James Evans.

A variety of interesting games followed the ceremonies and a tempting lunch of doughnuts and hot chocolate was served by the committee as the concluding feature.

Wednesday evening, February 9, marks the date of the next meeting.

Club Entertained By Mrs. Davidson

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Carl C. Davidson received members of her bridge club at her home, 515 Park avenue, on Tuesday evening, in a pleasant manner for their bi-weekly meeting.

Mrs. Ida Marks and Mrs. Carl Hayes were found to be the high score winners after several hours of play and were presented with attractive gifts by the hostess.

On Tuesday evening, the eighth of February, the next meeting will be held at the Hayes home, in Second street.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Grocery Store Damaged By Fire

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 27.—A grocery store located at the corner of North street and Hazel avenue, owned and operated by Wesley McElwain, was somewhat damaged by fire on Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 p. m.

The fire was caused by an overloaded furnace, and was quickly controlled upon the arrival of the local fire department.

Damage to the building, a one-story structure, was estimated by Acting Fire Chief Harry Wolfe, to be $75.

Elks Observe Butler Night

Class Of Candidates Initiated By Butler Officers Led By J. Austin Gormley

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 27.—"Butler Night" was observed by the Ellwood City Elks Lodge at their bi-weekly meeting on Wednesday evening at their Crescent avenue home.

Thirty-five members of the Butler Lodge were special guests here and their officers conferred initiation services on a class of candidates desiring membership into the local organization. J. Austin Gormley, past district deputy, served in place of Butler's Exalted Ruler, who was unable to attend owing to illness.

Following the impressive ceremonies, interesting talks were given by Mr. Gormley, Lee W. McCandless, District Attorney of Butler county, and Rev. J. K. Brennan, all officers of the visiting lodge.

Clark H. Buell, past exalted ruler of New Castle, and chairman of the state convention committee, attended and told the assemblage of the plans for the state meeting.

There was a total attendance of one hundred and fifty members and guests and following the meeting, a most delicious dinner was served under the supervision of Lewis Young and a committee.

The next meeting will occur on Wednesday, February 9.

District Group At Burrows Home

Presidents Of Y. P. C. U. Societies Gather For Regular Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 27.—Presidents of District 2 of Beaver Valley Presbytery Y. P. C. U. were guests on Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Bertha Burrows, of Fountain avenue, for their January meeting.

Miss Margaret Battersby, president of the Ellwood society, conducted the devotional and the remainder of the meeting. Clyde Byers, counselor of District 3, was a guest and offered helpful suggestions for improving the meetings.

Mrs. Wilbur Cowan, the new counselor of this district, attended.

Presidents of the societies attending contributed interesting reports of the activities of their groups during the past month.

For the refreshments, the group were seated at a table prettily decorated with St. Valentine appointments and served a tempting repast. The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, January 23, with the place to be decided.

Rev. Fr. Vincent Galliano will officiate.

Interment will be made in Locust Grove cemetery.

G. A. R. LADIES

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 27.—Ladies of the G. A. R. will hold their monthly meeting on Friday night at 8 o'clock in the V. F. W. hall, in Fourth street. Installation of officers and initiation of new members will take place.

Hot Finish Tops Mechanical 28-25

Specialty-Office Versus Cold Draw Game Postponed Until Later Date

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 27.—The Hot Finish, first round winners of the Shelby basketball league, defeated the Mechanicals last night in a close game at Shelby court by a score of 28 to 25.

Owing to a death in the family of a member, the scheduled Office-Cold Draw game was postponed until a later date. An all-star team composed of other players from all teams met the Cold Draw in an exhibition game with the all-stars winning by a two-point margin.

The Cold Draw crew, after leading the first quarter, trailing in the second and third stages, rallied considerably in the last period to score 12 points to their opponents' 7, but when the final whistle sounded they were still behind one basket.

The Hot Finish trailed in the first period by ten points, but outscored the Mechanicals in every other quarter to gain a victory.

High scorers were: Robuck and Dray, Hot Finish; Kritchler, Mechanical; Francis and Zickel, All Stars and Clyde, Cold Draw.

Games scheduled for Saturday night are: Inspection versus Specialty-Office and Cold Finish-Bar Mill versus Hot Finish.

Randolph Post Plans Dance For Auxiliary

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 27.—What promises to be one of the most successful events of the week has been arranged for Friday night when members of the J. Wilbur Randolph post of the American Legion will hold a "barn" dance for their auxiliary and friends.

A splendid orchestra has been secured for the occasion and the merry-makers are requested to be in costumes suitable for the affair. In addition a fine program is being arranged.

Carl Shirley is chairman of the event.

"The Fund Family" Is Subject For Missionary Meet

Presbyterian Women Have Luncheon Honoring Society Officers

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 27.—A delightful event of Wednesday was held in the First Presbyterian church dining room when members of the Women's Missionary Society held their monthly meeting in the form of a luncheon honoring the officers of the society.

The delightful luncheon was served by a committee of four: Mrs. Herman Wilson, chairman; Mrs. Harriet Bartel, Mrs. S. A. Hartung and Mrs. W. A. Kerr.

Mrs. Robert Curry conducted the opening devotional period. A most interesting and instructive program entitled "The Fund Family" was presented by Mrs. A. M. Stevenson, president of the society, presented at the business meeting with plans being discussed for society activities.

Wednesday, February 23, marks the date of next month's meeting.

Many Ministers Participate In Holiness Convention At Wesleyan Church

SUNDAY SCHOOL IS DISCUSSION TOPIC

This is the last day of the Holiness Convention at the Wesleyan Methodist church on Lombard street, in which ministers from all parts of the denomination's New Castle district are participating.

This evening the convention will feature a family altar radio cast with Rev. Cecil Clifton and Rev. Alice Clifton in charge of the entire program.

Wednesday, the second day of the convention, opened with a song service, followed by a Love Feast, led by Rev. J. F. Merrifield. Romans 1-11 was read. An old fashioned testimony meeting, in which many testified to the saving and sanctifying power of God, was followed with a sermon on "Entire Sanctification Subsequent to Regeneration" by Rev. Cecil Huntman. First Thess., chapter 1, was read, and a most inspiring sermon was preached.

The afternoon session opened at 2 with Chairman G. B. Clay, pastor of the church, presiding. The entire afternoon session was devoted to the work of the Sunday School. Rev. C. C. Cross, the first speaker, pointed out that the Sunday School was the most important branch of the church organization, and that it should be a preventive spiritual force to stem the tide of sin in the land; and that "if our zeal in this work equalled the zeal of teachers of false doctrines we would reach a greater goal." In his characteristic and zealous manner he pleaded for soul-paasion and zeal in this department of church work. The second speaker, Rev. J. F. Merrifield, pointed out that all teachers should be saved and wholly sanctified themselves before they attempt to teach in the Sunday School, and make applications from each Sunday School lesson on the basis of Christian experience and the Word of God. The third speaker, Rev. Sherman Beers, pointed out that the aim of the Sunday school should be the conversion of children to Christ and that evangelistic services should be held at stated times in the school. The fourth speaker, Chairman G. B. Clay, read an excellent paper on "Outstanding Successes in Church Work Major on the Sunday School." He declared that the evangelization of the child is the outstanding problem facing the church today; that spiritual illiteracy is the greatest peril of organized society, and that the Sunday School should be a nursery for Christians. Benediction by Rev. Sherman Beers.

The evening session opened with song and prayer. The young people's chorus, under the leadership of Rev. William Leysion, sang beautifully the hymn "Deeper, Deeper." Rev. James F. Merrifield preached a stirring evangelistic sermon from the text in Jer. 8:20. Two seekers found their way to the altar of prayer at the close of the sermon.

EDENBURG

Charlie Stanley and son, Gene, were Youngstown visitors Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Park of Masury, O., visited his mother, Mrs. Harry Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duval of New Castle, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hofmeister and daughter, Dorothy, visited their son, Russell, and wife at Pittsburgh, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Hofmeister, Mrs. Laura Coates and Mrs. Belle Stanley, visited Mrs. Sarah McIntosh and Mrs. Walter Smith at the Janssen Memorial hospital, Sunday afternoon.

Hints On Etiquette

In introducing two strangers, the phrase "Let me make you acquainted with" is considered poor taste. "Mrs. Jones may I present Mrs. Smith" is preferred.

Plan For Safety Keynote During Boy Scout Week

"Living Exposition" Is Planned By Boys In The Local District

As a "good turn" to the men and women of this community as well as a graphic demonstration of their preparedness and training, Boy Scouts of the Lawrence County Council will stage "living exhibitions" of safety as a climaxing activity to their celebration of the 28th anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America, during Boy Scout Week, February 6 to 12.

"Building A Strong Generation" is the theme of Scout Week, and "Safety In Living" is the keynote. These displays will involve New Castle Boy Scouts in practical and constructive demonstrations of such every day problems as crossing the street, arm signals, and recommended actions for both pedestrians and motorists.

Scouts will further display their preparedness for meeting emergencies through demonstrations of first aid, knot tying, camping and other scouting skills which will reveal the things scouts do.

Karl P. Green, local scout executive, is in charge of developing this piece of community service, and he states that quite an elaborate program has been arranged for Scout Week.

Dean Resigns At Westminster

Will Complete Duties At End Of Present Semester It Is Announced

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 27.—The resignation of Dean Alex C. Burr of Westminster college was officially announced today, to become effective at the opening of the second semester. His place will be temporarily filled by a member of the faculty until the appointment of a permanent dean.

Dean Burr came to Westminster in 1934 from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he was assistant director of the graduate school. His work at Westminster has been chiefly in obtaining more graduate scholarships for Westminster students; installing a new major in American culture; raising the scholarship standards, which resulted in the college's placement on the Association of American Universities, the highest college accrediting agency, and establishing a system of refunds in tuition for "A" work.

Before coming to Westminster, Dean Burr taught at Jamestown college, North Dakota; the University of Michigan, and City College of Detroit. He holds degrees from Jamestown college and from the University of Michigan.

Broken Glass Is Collected And Sold

Sound Of Crashing Glass Reveals Small Business Being Conducted

There was a crash of glass! We went to investigate, and found W. B. Thompson shoveling a lot of broken white bottles from a truck into an old garage.

He collects this broken glass, from milk dairies and dumps, on an average of about seven tons a week. Mr. Thompson says there is not great remuneration in the business, but it is better than being unemployed.

An old barn is used to store broken glass, and it doesn't have to be locked up. The glass is held pending the demand from the glass factory. Mr. Thompson says he expects to sell all the stock next Monday to the factory in Parkers Landing.

The glass is washed carefully and all foreign materials taken out before being remelted. Amber broken glass is scarce, and only about six tons a month is collected, which is taken to the Marionville factory.

COUNTY HEAD SPEAKS

Mrs. W. G. Wilkins, president of the Lawrence county W. C. T. U., was the guest speaker Friday evening when Charles Martin of Crawford avenue extended the hospitality of her home to the ladies of the Frances Willard union.

Mrs. Wilkins held the close attention of her audience by a highly instructive talk on the temperance work which the Women's Christian Temperance Union hopes to accomplish by the Centenary Fund, the state budget tax, and so forth. At the close she answered questions for the ladies.

Mrs. T. A. Preston, president of the union, presided over the meeting. At the opening the members joined their voices in singing "Our Native Land" with Mrs. M. R. Newbury at the piano. Mrs. Grant Fisher had charge of the worship period and conducted a fine program of short readings in which several ladies took part. She then gave a short talk followed by prayer, closing the period. A song, "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee," led up to the business meeting. Roll call was answered by a temperance thought of a verse of scripture and a fine attendance was marked.

During the business meeting reports were given by the various officers and department directors. After Mrs. Wilkins' address, Mrs. Martha Dadds closed the meeting with the W. C. T. U. benediction and prayer.

An hour was then spent in social chat while the hostess and her aides, Mrs. Joseph Jordan, Mrs. Will Scott, and Mrs. W. E. McKee served delicious refreshments. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. J. B. McClure, Whipper street, when Mrs. J. L. Moser, Mrs. A. W. Mercer, Mrs. W. R. Gilkey and Mrs. T. W. McCullough will be associate hostesses. Mrs. J. P. Allen will lead the devotional exercises. "Frances Willard Day" will be observed, with Rev. Dr. C. N. Moore as guest speaker.

SCOTLAND UNION

Mrs. Merle Davis, Grandview avenue, received members of the Scotland W. C. T. U. in her home Monday evening. Mrs. Davis conducted the devotional period.

Preliminary Work To Be Started Soon On New Sanatorium

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 27.—Within the next two weeks construction work on Butler's $2,645,000 Western Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Sanatorium will get under way, it was announced Wednesday.

Low bidders for contracts for preliminary work are: General construction, Dehamel Construction Company, Cleveland, $54,440; heating, Harry Daugherty & Son, Freeport, $4,884; plumbing, Weidon & Kelly, Pittsburgh, $5,800; electrical, Fort Pitt Electric Company, Pittsburgh, $5,194.

Those four bids, totaling $71,318, provide for the general construction of garage, laundry building and a storage warehouse. PWA deadline for start of construction is fixed by the General State Authority on or before February 14.

Bids for the main part of the sanatorium project, estimated to cost well in excess of $2,000,000, will be opened March 1, it was announced. Plans are expected to go out to contractors February 4.

Site of the sanatorium is the 107-acre Robinson tract, two miles west of Butler on Route 422, purchased by the county for $32,100, and deeded over to the General State Authority.
